BANDIT TAKES OWN LIFE AND ENDS SEARCH

Two Others Blamed for Murder Under Arrest in Saskatchewan

MANY SHOTS FIRED IN THREE-DAY MAN-HUNT

KELVINGTON, Sask., July 8 (CP).—Trapped in a relentless circle of armed police and farmers, marshaled into the strongest criminal-hunting force in the history of Saskatchewan, and already wounded in the ankle, William Miller shot himself to death near here late today rather than be arrested to face trial, with two companions, for the murder of Corporal Leonard V. Ralls, a Royal Canadian Mounted Policeman.

Miller died in the bushy, farm-dotted hills of Central Saskatchewan, where for more than three days he had eluded a grim pursuit carried forward with increasing intensity. Scores of farmers joined mounted police in the manhunt.

First of the trio alleged to have killed Ralls on the highway near Foam Lake, Sask., was arrested yesterday. He was seventeen-year-old Mike Kurulak, who surrendered when police came upon him as he was tending three horses in a farmyard. The bandit trio had stolen the horses, mounting them to make better time as the pursuing posse came closer.

SECOND MAN ARRESTED

Today William Kurulak, thirty-year-old brother of Mike, was arrested without a struggle as he slept under a tree on a farm.

With the Kurulak brothers in custody, the posse threw all its resources today in the hunt for Miller, said by police to be the most dangerous of the bandits. Several times they sighted him as he sped across open patches in the bush. When they fired, Miller returned shots from behind bushes and trees.

AT END OF TRAIL

No one was injured during the nearly two-day battle with Miller, though the bandit fired on more than a dozen occasions. He reached the end of his trail late today.

Hidden in woods near Warner Lake, thirteen miles northeast of Kelvington, he was surrounded by the heavily armed posse. For several hours he kept up a running gunfire, answering police commands to surrender with bullets.

PRINCIPLE GETS FULL APPROVAL

Twenty-Nine Nations Willing to Reduce Armament by One-Third

GENEVA, July 8 (CP).—Twenty-nine nations represented at the world disarmament conference tonight had expressed their approval in principle of the American plan to reduce the world's arms by one-third.

Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary and chairman of the council, circulated among the delegations the draft of his declaration which will bring the first phase of the conference to a close, adjourning until the Autumn. It will probably be presented early next week.

Efforts were being made to have Sir John include in this declaration endorsement of the American principle of a flat one-third reduction, and for this purpose Norman H. Davis, one of the United States contingent, today visited Prime Minister MacDonald at Lausanne, later expressing satisfaction with the interview.

TECHNICALLY IMPOSSIBLE

The British, however, while in cordial agreement with the American principle or any other declaration for the reduction of armaments, hold that a flat cut of one-third is technically virtually impossible of achievement, and they have their own definite plans for naval disarmament.

The biggest task which remains appears to be satisfying the German demand for recognition of her right to arm on a basis of equality with the other nations. It is probable Germany will press for this through the League of Nations.

His Majesty Sends Congratulations to Ramsay MacDonald

British Premier Wins High Praise for Effecting Agreement on Reparations Question—Success of Parley Made Possible Only by Untiring Efforts Despite Repeated Deadlocks

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, July 8 (CP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain tonight received the warm congratulations of His Majesty the King on his success in bringing the powers at the Lausanne conference to an agreement on reparations.

The British Prime Minister, who was the driving force of the conference, was also warmly congratulated by his fellow conferees. The German Chancellor, Franz von Papen, was not so elated as the other delegates, for Germany wanted a more far-reaching political accord than Lausanne was able to achieve, but it was generally agreed that Lausanne has achieved more success than was expected.

NEVER GAVE UP HOPE

It was the British Prime Minister's untiring efforts that brought the agreement about. Several times the conference has been seemingly hopelessly deadlocked. Mr. MacDonald, who opened the conference with the flat declaration that something had to be done, worked long hours for weeks, despite the strain on his health and on his eyes, never gave up hope, and at last emerged with the Franco-German agreement which permitted the general agreement to wipe out reparations annuities.

Investigation of Increase in Price Of "Gas" Started

F. E. HARRISON, Western representative of the Federal Department of Labor, is in Victoria for the purpose of gathering information for his department covering the advance in price of gasoline which has been ordered by the controlling companies.

Information was given the representative meeting of citizens held yesterday to discuss the situation that Ottawa had, as a result of the protest made from here, taken steps to have the matter investigated.

Mr. Harrison, who has been instructed to report on the matter, is not in a position to say anything at the present time. He is getting all the facts in connection with the subject, which will be forwarded to Ottawa when completed.

Awake to Find Home In Flames

COURTENAY, July 8.—Narrowly escaping with their lives and clad only in their night attire, Harold Shaw, his wife and two boys, two and four years old, gained exit through a bedroom window at 5:15 o'clock this morning, when they awoke to find their house a mass of flames and smoke.

Neighbors were quickly on the scene, but could do little except secure other property. The fire brigade responded smartly but the fire, which must have been burning some time before discovered, had already doomed the bungalow and interior effects. The cause of the fire is not known. The property was insured.

CLEVELAND, O., July 8.—Stella Walsh, feminine track star, today declined to accept naturalization as a citizen of the United States, and will run under the colors of her native Poland in the coming Olympic games.

Huge British Conversion Loan Off to a Fine Start

LONDON, July 8 (CP). — The gigantic scheme for conversion of the £2,000,000,000 British war loan from 5 per cent to 3 1-2 per cent interest has made a splendid start.

Out of two million holders of the bonds, 350,000 have already replied, it was learned tonight, an overwhelming majority assenting to conversion.

Every reasonable opportunity is being given overseas holders to convert, which is not compulsory. A bonus of 1 per cent in cash is being paid to foreign holders who assent without undue delay.

While it is too early to assure patriotic bondholders, the conversion savings—estimated at £7,000,000 net—will be translated into a reduction in direct taxation, and every effort will be made in that direction, the Government states.

All members of the London Bankers' Clearing House, and many other important banks, including the Hongkong and Shanghai banks, have decided to convert the whole of their substantial holdings of war loans, while one great insurance company has converted bonds to the amount of £12,000,000.

Uproar in Diet Suspends Session

BERLIN, July 8 (AP).—Debate in the Prussian Diet became so uproarious today that the Speaker was obliged to suspend the session temporarily.

U.S. WILLING TO CONSIDER DEBTS SLASH

Individual Proposals for Revision Would Be Received by State Department

CONGRESS WOULD HAVE TO APPROVE CHANGES

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The United States stands ready to hear appeals from European powers for a reduction of the $11,000,000,000 they owe this country on loans during and immediately after the war.

Since Europe has agreed at Lausanne to cut Germany's reparations down to $750,000,000, the State Department said today the United States is willing to consider individual proposals for a revision of debts from the fifteen nations which owe this country.

No promises to revise or cancel debts have been made by the United States. But this Government has repeatedly stated in recent months that it would grant a rehearing to European debtors individually after they have agreed among themselves to settle reparations.

The United States has insisted it had no interest in reparations.

MUST AWAIT DETAILS

Until the Lausanne conference works out its agreement in detail and the full text is available to the State Department, Henry L. Stimson, Secretary of State, and his assistants will not be able to arrange plans for hearing appeals of the debtors.

Any change in the amount of war debt payments would have to be approved by Congress, which is on record against further reduction or cancellation. Both the House of Representatives and Senate took this position in approving the Hoover one-year moratorium on intergovernmental debts.

It remains to be seen how great a cut European powers will ask the United States to make in the war obligations. Some economists predict the debtors will suggest a reduction of 90 per cent, which is approximately the slash they have just made in German reparations.

On this basis the United States would be offered slightly more than $1,000,000,000.

Great Britain, France and Italy owe approximately 90 per cent of the war debts due this Government, the remainder being obligations of Belgium, Greece, Austria and other Central European and Baltic countries.

LEGION IS NOT BACKING MARCH

Victoria District Council, B.E.S.L., Not in Sympathy With Ottawa Trek

The Victoria District Council of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., last night issued a statement to the press definitely dissociating its member organizations with the Working Class ex-Service Men's League and the reported proposals of that body to initiate a "march on Ottawa."

The statement issued by the Victoria District Council of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., last night, said:

NO CONNECTION

"Following reports appearing in the press of a proposed march to Ottawa of returned soldiers, sponsored by the Working Class ex-Service Men's League, the members of the Victoria District Council, B.E.S.L., representing the following branches, Britannia, British Campaigners, T. V. Section, Prince Edward, Pro Patria, Naval Veterans, Sooke and North Saanich, desire to inform the public that the Working Class ex-Service Men's League is in no way affiliated with any branch, council or command of the Canadian Legion, and the Victoria District Council entirely dissociates itself from any idea soliciting the citizens of this district for funds to advance this march."

COMMUNISTIC ATTITUDE

Continuing, the statement quotes from an official circular issued by the American Legion National Headquarters respecting the Workers ex-Service Men's League of the United States, in which it was stated that there was a close connection between activities of the league and those of the Communists in the United States. A congressional committee, states the circular, listed the league as a subsidiary organization to the Communist party.

Governor to Open Ottawa Conference

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP).—Canada's Governor-General will open the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa on Thursday, July 21, it was learned on high authority today. The Earl of Bessborough is at present in residence in Quebec City, but will be back in the Capital within the next two weeks to deliver the initial address of the parley.

EXPECTS TREATY FOR 20 YEARS

Rothermere Expresses Confidence in Success of Coming Imperial Conference

EDMONTON, Alta., July 8.—A commercial treaty to stand for at least twenty years between the nations of the British Empire should result from the pending Imperial Conference at Ottawa, which, he believes, will be a success, declared Lord Rothermere, Noted British press peer, during his visit here today.

Long a champion of Empire trade, Lord Rothermere asserted it would be nothing short of a calamity if the conference is a failure. He was delighted, however, over the settlement at Lausanne and feels another success will be scored at Ottawa.

Return of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm to the throne of Germany was predicted by His Lordship, who said there had been a decided movement in favor of a restoration of the monarchy.

JUNTA AT AN END

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 8 (AP).—Carlos G. Davila, who became acting President of Chile yesterday when two members of his governing junta resigned, today swore in a reorganized Cabinet and announced the junta was at an end.

GERMAN REPARATIONS ENDED BY TREATY ARRANGED AT LAUSANNE

European Nations and Japan Agree to Drop Annual Payments in Effort to Improve World Conditions—France and Germany Brought to Agreement on Main Issues

Success of Negotiations Is Credited to British Premier

LAUSANNE, July 8 (CP).—German war reparations will be ended by a treaty to be signed tomorrow, bringing to a close the arduous labors of the Lausanne conference of reparations and debts.

Agreement was finally achieved today through the unwearying efforts of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, who, through days of disappointing deadlocks, never gave up hope of bringing the chief parties, France and Germany, to an accord.

The treaty, which will be signed by Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium and Japan, will drop the reparations annuities which under the Young Plan were to have run on for another fifty-five years at a total figure of around twenty-five billion dollars.

For the reparations annuities will be substituted a German final liability of about $750,000,000. This will be a bond issue to be put out when Germany's credit position permits. It will not be capitalized for at least three years. If it is not issued within fifteen years the final liability, too, will be dropped. The price of the bond issue will be 90, so that the ultimate sum will be 2,700,000,000 gold marks, or $675,000,000.

NEW WORLD DEAL

Wiping the reparations slate clean, as it does, the treaty in itself is naturally of tremendous importance. Yet it is only a step towards what the Lausanne conferees hope will be, with the cordial cooperation of the United States, a new world deal lifting the load of debts still weighing down the nations, fourteen years after the close of the Great War.

The treaty lays stress on the principle that a new effort for peace in relations among nations is commenced on the basis of reciprocal confidence, a declaration which as soon as it was made public brought from Washington the cheering news that the United States was ready to consider any proposals European debtors may make for reconsideration of the war debts settlements.

And when the final session of

Dublin Reports Conciliatory Tone Adopted by de Valera

DUBLIN, July 8 (CP).—It was reported tonight that President Eamon de Valera had adopted a "conciliatory" tone in the Free State reply to the latest note from the British Government in the dispute over payment of annuities by the Free State, which defaulted the semi-yearly payment due on June 30.

The Cabinet agreed to the principle of the new Irish note, which has not yet been dispatched. It was understood Mr. de Valera, however, maintains his attitude that he is unable to submit the annuities to arbitration by any other than an open tribunal, not confined to persons selected from within the Empire, as demanded by Britain.

Advertising Is Power to Bring New Prosperity

George W. Kleiser Tells Convention Sales Appeal Indispensable in Reviving Industry—Products Must Be Meritorious, Statements Honest and Straightforward—New President Installed

VANCOUVER, July 8.—In a riot of color, joy and music, the twenty-ninth annual convention of the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association was brought to a close in the Hotel Vancouver tonight. With the installation of Walter Folger, of San Francisco, as president before the largest gathering the convention has witnessed, official proceedings were declared ended.

Advertising as one of the indispensable tools to be used in the reconstruction of North American industry was the keynote of an address at the morning session by George W. Kleiser, of San Francisco, today.

"Advertising," he declared, "is a powerful instrument which should be used with the greatest of skill and care in order that the rebuilding may be sound and lasting, once the upturn has begun.

CHANCE FOR DEMONSTRATION

"With the change in the situation from one where anything could be sold that could be manufactured to one where anything can be manufactured that can be sold, the opportunity exists for a genuine demonstration of the results that can be obtained through powerful advertising intelligently done.

"This," he said, "should be done on behalf of meritorious products directed to a timid and doubting public through the primary media serving them."

HONESTY ESSENTIAL

The confidence of both advertiser and public, which to a greater or lesser degree has been shaken by extreme methods in advertising during these unusual times, must be restored. This can be accomplished only through "honesty, truth and straightforwardness in advertising itself," he said. "Advertising will, no doubt, lead us out of the depression and probably will be one of the first industries to recover if those to whom it is entrusted use it powerfully and sanely."

Today was Victoria's day, and at an enthusiastic luncheon meeting, where members were the guests of The Victoria Colonist, The Victoria

DISPUTE NOT FOR CONFERENCE

Anglo-Free State Differences Will Not Be Discussed at Ottawa

LONDON, July 8 (CP).—The principle that the Anglo-Irish differences over the Free State's non-payment of the land annuities are a dispute between two parties to an agreement, and not a matter for the Imperial Economic Conference to settle, was enunciated in the House of Commons today by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominion Affairs.

Mr. Thomas was winding up the debate on the Government's measure empowering fresh duties on imports from the Irish Free State, by which the Government will recoup the amounts lost by the Free State default—£3,000,000 in the calendar year. The bill was given third reading by 222 votes to 30.

SURPRISED AT SUGGESTION

Expressing surprise at Opposition suggestions the matter should be left to the Imperial Conference which meets in Ottawa shortly, Mr. Thomas declared, "The one thing we have to avoid is dragging the Dominions into a dispute in which they are not affected."

He declared the British Government's latest note to the Free State Government, headed by President Eamon de Valera, repeated the offer to submit the annuities to arbitration, but by an Empire tribunal and not by an international body, as the Free State has so far demanded.

SAYS BILL NOT BLUFF

The Government regretted the necessity of taking action against the Free State by imposts on her goods, the minister said, warning that the bill was not a bluff, but the British Government hoped that by agreeing to an Empire tribunal the Free State would make it unnecessary for Britain to use the powers conferred by the present bill.

End Mine Strike In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 8 (CP).—Agreement has been reached between New Zealand coal mine operators and the miners, who have been on strike for some weeks in protest against proposed wage reductions. At a round table conference the miners agreed to substantial reductions, and it was expected the unions would accept these, resuming work on July 12.

FATALLY BURNED IN LAUNCH EXPLOSION

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 8 (CP).—Charles E. Hunt, fifty, who was burned in an explosion on June 15, on T. D. Trapp's gasoline launch, on the north arm of the Fraser River, died in the Royal Columbian Hospital Thursday night. At the time of the explosion, Mr. Hunt was alone on the launch, but managed to crawl out of the cabin. He was single and had lived here several years after coming out from England.

REBELS SEIZE PERUVIAN CITY

Long and Bloody Battle Followed by Looting and Burning

LIMA, Peru, July 8 (AP).—The important commercial city of Trujillo was seized by civilian rebels today after a long and bloody battle with loyalist troops, and the Congress declared a state of siege as the Government sent reinforcements to the scene.

"A number of persons" were known to have been killed in the movement at Trujillo, as well as in skirmishes between revolting civilians and police at Puerto Chicama and Paijan.

The first outbreak occurred at Trujillo early yesterday, when 400 civilians attacked the small forces of the First Artillery troops and police units.

HEROIC AND LOYAL

The troops and police were reported by the Government to have fulfilled their duty heroically and loyally, reporting a number of killed and wounded on both sides before the revolting groups isolated the city and cut off news.

There followed looting and burning, but the extent of the pillage was unknown.

The rebels were described by the Government as Communists. Other sources said they were members of the Aprista, which is a group of revolutionaries who deny contact with Moscow.

WAITING FOR ITALIAN HELP

Salvage Ships Speeding to Scene of French Disaster

CHERBOURG, France, July 8 (AP).—Strong currents and a rising tide halted efforts to salvage the sunken French submarine Promethee today and small harbor craft, unequipped for the task, sought shelter in the harbor.

Early in the morning they will load chains and cables and heavy lines and steam out again to the spot, seven miles off Cape Levi, where the Promethee lies in forty fathoms.

It was hoped that some time in the forenoon the Italian salvage ship Artiglio II and her sister ship, the Rosto, would be there to help. The naval authorities asked for their assistance today and the Artiglio II started immediately from Brest. The Rosto headed for Cherbourg from Havre, where she was refueling.

LOCATION MARKED

The location of the Promethee was clearly marked, the nature and strength of the currents in the vicinity have been fully determined, and everything was ready to proceed with the work of rescue tomorrow, naval officers said. They warned that the difficulties were great.

A special deep-sea diving apparatus was being rushed by train from Toulon and a technical expert was en route to Cherbourg by airplane.

A scout ship, moving back and forth in the area where the submersible was known to have sunk, spotted the hull early this morning and dropped a buoy there. A few

Outboard Motor Boat Trip Fatal

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., July 8.—Presumably drowned while attempting to cross Waseklu Lake, Prince Albert National Park, in a small outboard motorboat, R. A. ("Sandy") McCloy, fifty-two, of this city, and Joe Stewart, about fifty, Saskatoon traveler, were given up as lost late today after an all-day search had failed to reveal their whereabouts.

The boat, motor and blankets and other articles which had been in the boat were found strewn along the shore this morning.

WORLD AIRMEN SLIGHTLY HURT

Mattern and Griffin Hope to Repair Plane Now in Russian Bog

MOSCOW, July 8 (AP). — The globe-circling adventure of James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, which started in New York with a blaze of speed, has come to an abrupt end in Western Russia with only one-third of the flight behind them.

The world learned today the pair had cracked up their racy monoplane just over the Polish-Russian border, 500 miles east of Berlin.

NEITHER SERIOUSLY HURT

Neither of the men was seriously injured in a forced landing near Borisov, Russia, fifty miles from Minsk, yesterday morning, word of the mishap said.

Their Century of Progress was believed to have developed control trouble. The pilots probably mistook the lights of Borisov for Moscow, and circled for an emergency landing.

The end came in a peat bog, the most likely place they could find to set the ship down in, and she cracked up in the soft surface.

UNABLE TO PROCEED

The plane was too badly damaged to proceed, and both men were slightly hurt, so they went to Minsk yesterday and spent the night in a hotel.

Then they returned to Borisov today to find out if the ship could be repaired and flown out. If this can not be done, they will salvage as much as possible.

Tax Receipts Are Ahead Of Last Year's Returns

At the rate municipal taxes are being collected this year, there is every indication that the total receipts probably will exceed the budget estimates in some instances, it was learned at the City Hall and in adjacent municipalities to Victoria yesterday.

The situation in the city and Oak Bay is particularly "rosy," where collections are well ahead of last year, and there is every promise that the estimated revenue from the tax on land and improvements will be exceeded.

Edwin C. Smith, city treasurer, stated that although none of the tax notices had been sent out yet, collections under the prepaid scheme have amounted to $450,706.75 to date as compared with $412,497 for the same period last year.

This increase in collections is even more substantial than would at first appear, inasmuch as at this time last year's tax notices had been out for more than two weeks. As soon as the bills are put in the mail, a speeding-up of payments is anticipated. This has been the case every year since the prepaid collection system was instituted.

Those who have contributed to the $450,706.75 collected so far will share in the $16,414 interest money that will be distributed by the city.

Oak Bay officials yesterday stated that collection of taxes in their municipality was well up to last year, and the high percentage of receipts generally maintained in Oak Bay would be well sustained this year.

FOUR DROWNED IN PEACE RIVER

Car Started in Reverse Backs Off Ferry Into Swirling River Current

TAYLOR'S FLATS, B.C., July 8.—Four children were drowned in the swirling waters of the Peace River early this morning, when the car in which they were passengers crashed over the ferry here and into the swollen stream.

Otto Hoffstrom, of Taylor, B.C., was driving with his children to the Dawson Creek sports and was starting his car to leave the Taylor's Flats ferry.

Attempting to start the car, he did not notice it was in reverse gear. He stepped on the starter and the motor lurched backward into the water, sweeping the children into the rapid stream.

As the car went over the side of the ferry, Mr. Hoffstrom tried desperately to save his children. He managed to grip Florence, his second daughter, and pull her clear of the car, but the water tore her from his hands and the other children remained imprisoned in the car.

The car was found a short distance from where it sank, and the three bodies trapped in it were taken to Taylor. The body of the second child, who had been carried away by the stream, was found some distance below the scene of the tragedy.

Reparations Loss Will Be Met by Gain in Business

OTTAWA, July 8 (CP).—Improvement in world business springing from the agreement reached today at Lausanne will compensate Canada for the amount the country will forego in the scrapping of the Young plan.

This was the view taken in Government circles tonight of the loss of most of the annual payment of about $5,000,000 in reparations to which Canada was entitled on the old basis.

LAST TRIBUTES PAID PIONEER

Funeral Service for Frank J. MacKenzie Attended by Many Mourners

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 8.—Attended by numerous pioneers and other residents of the city and Lower Fraser Valley, the funeral service for Frank J. MacKenzie, of White Rock, was held this afternoon to the Church of England Cemetery. Mr. MacKenzie, who had lived fifty years in the valley, was a former Provincial Member for Delta, also prominent in fraternal and Canadian Legion circles.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. E. Gilbert, Vancouver, assisted by Rev. L. J. Thompson, of White Rock.

Foster, representing the British Columbia Command, Canadian Legion, and the British Columbia Conservative Association; Dr. A. P. Procter, the Canadian Army Medical Corps and Saughnessy Military Hospital, and Herbert Gilley, of the I.O.O.F. of British Columbia.

Active pallbearers were Councillor John J. Guichon, representing Reeve A. D. Paterson, Municipality of Delta, and Delta Riding Pioneers' Association; Richard Stead, representing White Rock Branch, No. 8, Canadian Legion; W. J. Moffatt, representing Joppa Lodge, No. 112, A.F. & A.M.; D. Frank Marshall, representing Royal City Lodge, No. 3, I.O.O.F.; Alexander Matheson and Duncan McLennan, representing the family and relatives.

GERMAN REPARATIONS ENDED BY TREATY ARRANGED AT LAUSANNE

the Lausanne conference is held—probably tomorrow — a resolution will be offered asking the United States to attend a world economic conference. This will be under the auspices of the League of Nations and presumably will take place at Geneva.

The United States has already decided to participate in such a world conference, but up to today refused to link the reparations up with war debts. The powers at Lausanne, relieved at the conclusion of the reparations settlement after so much difficulty during the past three weeks, confidently hope the proposed world conference will weave the Lausanne accord into a universal agreement.

BRIGHTER OUTLOOK

"Fresh achievements" are looked for in the preamble to the Lausanne treaty, which, after signature and ratification, will become one of the brightest documents in the huge postwar file.

"The powers that have signed this treaty," it reads, "do not claim that the accomplishment at Lausanne, which will completely put an end to reparations, can by itself assure that era of peace which all nations desire.

"But they do hope for an assurance that all these aims of such deep significance will be understood and appreciated by all pacific elements in Europe and the world. They do hope that these accomplishments, so arduously attained, will be followed by fresh achievements."

FIVE POINTS

Illustrating how the powers have sought to link the reparations solution into the framework of a plan for European reconstruction are the five points of the treaty, contained in five resolutions following the preamble.

These points in brief are:

1. The agreement regarding reparations between Germany and the Allies.

2. Conditional measures extending a moratorium on intergovernmental debts.

3. An agreement to assist Austria and the Danubian States which are in financial difficulties, and whose prosperity is closely linked with that of Germany.

4. Creation of a committee to study the grain problem in the Danubian States, which are embarrassed by a huge surplus.

5. Creation of the machinery for a world economic conference under auspices of the League of Nations.

"WAR GUILT"

The treaty, in line with the understanding that Germany had been compelled to drop her most far-reaching political ambitions to permit of a reparations settlement, contains nothing about a "gentleman's agreement," linking reparations with war debts to the United States, nor is there any reference to the "war guilt" clause of the Versailles Treaty.

The German bonds are to be placed in a common cash box when they are issued. This will, as stated, not be done for at least three years, and, in fact, until the debt settlements with the United States are revised, if they are going to be revised. The former allies expect to use part of the German funds to pay their United States debts. A portion of the German bonds will be devoted to aiding European economic restoration.

The participating powers met this evening, but the session was adjourned and it was announced the agreement would be signed tomorrow night.

WAITING FOR ITALIAN HELP

minutes later the Promethee's telephone buoy was discovered and for a time it was hoped that it might still be possible to talk with some of the more than sixty men who went down with the ship.

NO SOUND ON WIRE

This hope proved groundless, for there was no sound from the other end of the telephone wire. There were bubbles on the surface, but that did not indicate there was still life in the submarine.

There is no craft in this harbor with apparatus to send down a diver. Not until the Artiglio and the Rosto get here will the rescuers be able to learn just how the Promethee lies on the bottom.

Cherbourg, of course, buzzed with rumors. The most exciting was an erroneous report that Lieutenant Amaury du Mesnil, commander of the submarine, had shot himself. It was quickly denied.

MANY EXPLANATIONS

There were many unofficial explanations of the cause of the disaster. One of them was the story of one of the seven survivors.

He was a sailor who was on the deck when the Promethee went down. There was a loud hissing noise which brought the captain up from below in a hurry, he said.

As soon as he got out of the hatch, the captain roared an order to all hands to go below and to close all the doors.

The sailor said several doors were slammed shut but one of them jammed.

SEA POURING IN

Then the Promethee slid out from under their feet and it seemed to him that there was nothing to stop the sea from pouring into the open door.

Lieutenant du Mesnil was quoted as having said that perhaps one of his men had started the diving apparatus by mistake.

A board of inquiry already has started an investigation. Its members and Lieutenant du Mesnil visited the spot where the ship went down today.

ALL MOTOR VEHICLES OWNED BY PROVINCE ARE TO BE LETTERED

In future, all Government-owned motor vehicles operated by Government employees, in all parts of the province, will bear a distinguishing sign, "Province of B.C." Instructions were issued by the Department of Public Works yesterday to have all cars so marked.

The lettering will be placed on either side of the vehicle so that it may be easily recognized. By marking of cars the department hopes to eliminate any tendency on the part of an official, or employee, to use the vehicles for purposes other than strictly Government business.

The Department of Public Works has had the matter under consideration for some time, and the decision to letter the vehicles was made in order to prevent any criticism that Provincially-owned cars were being used for private business. The lettering will be done by means of a transfer sheet. The transfer sheet is to be a Canadian product.

STARTS DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

B.C. Agricultural Association Anticipates Greater Show Than in 1931

Fifty new members for the British Columbia Agricultural Association were secured yesterday, the first day of the drive, by George S. Summerfield and Gerald F. Brown, in whose hands the membership campaign has been entrusted, it was announced by Alderman H. O. Litchfield, chairman of the finance committee.

The drive for new members is being staged this year to create even more widespread interest in the organization than was the case last year.

The 1931 show was the most successful on record, both as to attendance and number of entries, Alderman Litchfield declared, "but it is our wish that every citizen should share in the success and help to make this year's exhibition an even greater one. It is for this reason that we are widening the scope of membership."

HELPFUL MEMBERS

Of the fifty new members secured yesterday, the majority of them were merchants, who are in a position to give valuable assistance to the association, both in the matter of exhibits and advice as to improvements that might be made.

Everyone who takes out a membership ticket is entitled to voting privileges and it is believed that by securing a larger membership roster, many more entries for the Fair can be obtained.

Mr. Summerfield and Mr. Brown have taken offices in the Sayward Building, from which the campaign will be conducted, and yesterday a telephone was installed, so that any person wishing to join the association may do so by telephoning Garden 2442.

TO OFFER RODEO IN ISLAND TOWN

Victoria Motorcycle Club Will Present Stunts During Sweet Pea Festival Next Week

To serve as an extra attraction for the sweet pea festival which opens in Duncan next Wednesday, twenty members of the Victoria Motorcycle Club will provide a show of thrilling riding stunts under floodlights on the agricultural grounds. The show is expected to commence at 8 o'clock.

Final plans for the club's share in the programme were discussed at a meeting last night, when it was learned that the events to be staged will be some of those recently put on in Victoria during the rodeo at the Willows.

Through the addition of the programme of spectacular stunts which the members will offer, it is expected that many Vancouver Island residents will visit Duncan on Wednesday evening. Hundreds of outsiders interested in sweet pea cultivation are also expected to attend, as this is the first event of its kind ever to be staged in the Cowichan district.

Arrangements for the rodeo in Duncan are in the hands of David Cochrane, president of the Duncan Kinsman Club, who states that the grounds have been fully prepared with floodlights, and a colorful show is anticipated.

HIS MAJESTY SENDS CONGRATULATIONS TO RAMSAY MACDONALD

As late as last night it seemed doubtful the Lausanne conference would succeed. The break in the Franco-German deadlock over this nearly final chapter in postwar finance came after a conference in the early morning hours, a conference convened without notice by Prime Minister MacDonald, who seized the opportunity offered by relaxation after a dinner tendered the French Premier and Finance Minister M. Germain-Martin by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain.

AGREEMENT ACHIEVED

Mr. MacDonald seized the psychological moment to bring Chancellor von Papen, of Germany, and the latter's Foreign Minister, Baron von Neurath, together again with the French in his rooms, and when the delegates finally retired, he had achieved the elusive agreement.

Premier Herriot was jubilant as the final details were hammered out today. After the meeting he rushed into the lobby of the hotel where the meetings were held and impetuously embraced a couple of pretty girls as he shouted to the world at large:

"C'est fait." (It is done.)

Park Concert Programme Is Well Chosen

The Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade Band, under the leadership of C. A. Raine, will give the weekly band concert at Beacon Hill Park at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The following is the programme selected for the occasion: J. A. Greenwood's march "Stentorian"; Franz Schubert's overture "Rosamunde"; Waldteufel's waltz "L'Estudiantina"; Stephen Adams' "The Holy City," to be played as a cornet solo by James Mossop; Verdi's "Rigoletto"; Blankenburg's march "Territorial"; Ord Hume's arrangement of "A Day W' Robbie Burns"; Paderewski's "Celebrated Minuet"; Westherly's "Londonderry Air" and "Danny Boy"; Percy Code's caprice "Zelda," played as a euphonium solo by Sergt. Dave Townsend, and Godfrey's "Second New Sullivan."

Monks are buying mansions in England once occupied by the rich.

The locust invasion of South Africa is expected not to be serious.

BANDIT TAKES OWN LIFE AND ENDS SEARCH

After a lull in the battle, a section of the posse charged the woods. They found Miller dead, a bullet from his own rifle in his body.

AIDED BY PLANES

For the first time in a man-hunt in this province, airplanes were used by police. Two machines flew low over the country, keeping the ground forces posted on every movement of the fugitives.

It is not known how the elder Kurulak and Miller became separated. They were together when Mike Kurulak was arrested in a farmyard, firing on the police posse that took the youth into custody as they disappeared together in a nearby forest.

But William Kurulak was alone when the posse surprised him as he slept today, and Miller's spectacular attempt to escape was carried out without aid.

MAN IS ATTACKED BY BAND OF DOGS

Trapper Tells Story of Desperate Battle—Received Badly Lacerated Arm

THE PAS, Man., July 8 (CP).—Albert Farnol, forty-two-year-old trapper, arrived here today with his arm badly lacerated and a story of a desperate battle with eight or nine half-starved husky dogs which attacked him on an island in Southern Indian Lake.

Returning from his Winter's trapping operations, Farnol said he beached his canoe on the island and was at once attacked by the dogs. He beat them off and made a hasty retreat while the dogs swam after him. He said he shot several of them from the canoe before they turned back, discouraged by the cold water.

Convinced the presence of the dogs on the island is indication of a tragedy of some sort, Farnol plans to land on the island and investigate on his way back. It is possible they belonged to some Winter dog driver who perished and left them stranded. By means of rough first aid treatment he kept his wounded arm free from poison.

ADVERTISING IS POWER TO BRING NEW PROSPERITY

Times and the Vancouver Board of Trade, greetings from the Island Capital were extended to delegates.

INVITED TO VICTORIA

On behalf of The Victoria Colonist, Alex Stewart invited returning delegates to go back to their homes by way of the Capital, and expressed the hope that before long Victoria would have the privilege of being a P.A.C.A. convention city. W. A. Patterson, for The Victoria Times, conveyed greetings from the Capital.

Perhaps the keynote of the whole convention was touched by Harold Brown, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, when he delivered a message of cheer, faith and courage to the assembled delegates.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM

In a spirit of great enthusiasm, in which the convention epitomized courage and confidence, the business sessions were drawn to a close and outstanding delegates bid farewell to their fellow-workers. Among these was Ben Sweetland, of New York City, who brought a message to the morning meeting. Another was Guy Burrows, of Los Angeles, who paid tribute to the Canadian welcome and hospitality which, he said, contributed so much to the success of the 1932 gathering.

New Regulations Insure Against Building Shacks

Through the efforts of an energetic committee of ratepayers, building restrictions in Saanich have been considerably strengthened to insure against the construction of shacks lacking proper sanitary conveniences.

Some time ago members of the committee interviewed the municipal council to endeavor to secure a zoning by-law which would insure against the lowering of property values in the urban wards by the erection of unsightly shacks. Since that time the committee has been putting forth every effort and has succeeded in attaining its object to a certain extent.

The new amendments set out certain minimum requirements for all houses to be constructed in Saanich, as far as sanitary appliances are concerned.

Victoria Girl Takes Part in Services Shoot

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 8 (CP).—Miss Gwen Spencer, of Victoria, was one of several women firing shoulder to shoulder with the Canadian Bisley Team and other crack military shots in the Donegal and Conan Doyle matches at Bisley Camp today, but she did not do so well with the heavy service rifle. Miss Spencer scored 41 out of a possible 50 in the Donegal, and 27 and 31 in the two distances of the Conan Doyle shoot at 200 and 500 yards, out of a total possible of 70.

John D. Sees No Cause for Worry

NEW YORK, July 8.—John D. Rockefeller, who has lived through seven major depressions and has reached the conclusion that worry poisons the system, is ninety-three years old today. He said "prosperity has always returned and will again."

Coal reserves in Japan have just been estimated at 17,000,000,000 tons.

Bill Peden and Georgetti Still Lead "Bike" Race

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., July 8.—"Torchy" Peden, of Victoria, and Franco Georgetti, his Italian partner, continued to lead the six-day bike race here at the 107th hour. In distance covered they were tied with Horan and Gadou at 1,660 miles 10 laps, but led in points, 456 to 259.

De Stefani Wins From Japan Star To Even Series

MILAN, Italy, July 8 (AP).—George de Stefani, playing brilliant tennis, today defeated Jiro Satoh, of Japan, to divide the first two singles matches of the Davis Cup series. Stefani won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-4.

In the first match T. Kuwahara, No. 2 Japanese player, upset the plans of the Italians when he defeated Giovanni Palmieri 6-0, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

The winner will play either England or Germany for the right to meet the United States in the interzone final at Roland Garros Stadium, July 22 to 24.

SEATTLE INDIANS GRANTED USE OF CIVIC STADIUM

SEATTLE, July 8.—It appears the Seattle Indians will have a new home when they return here on July 19 from the South.

The City Council, in an informal meeting today, unanimously agreed to turn over the civic field to the team. Ordinances to that effect will be formally introduced for passage by the council on Monday.

The baseball club agreed to build boxes in front of the grandstand to seat about 1,000 persons. The grandstand will seat about 12,000, and to this will be added about 5,000 bleacher seats, furnished by the associated students of the University of Washington.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK IN QUEBEC

ST. NARCISSE, Que., July 8.—Two men held up the local branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale at noon and escaped with $2,200 in cash. The bank staff faced the drawn guns of the two holdup men and were powerless to prevent them from taking the money.

Sinclair Goes Green And Doctor Advises Bath as the Remedy

Tiger Shark Unfortunately Uses Same Water and Reporter Has to Swim for His Life, But Escapes to Enjoy His "Brunch"

By GORDON SINCLAIR

MALACCA, Straits Settlements.—The rains which lady novelists blame for moral nose-dives by equatorial white men splashed wearily up from Pango Pango as the blunt freighter Koroa eased through muddy waters into this junk laden harbor an hour before dawn.

GORDON SINCLAIR

I lay stewing in my own perspiration when a rascally Lascar came slap slapping along the deck to announce "Doctor come. Must see sahib. Sahib savvy?" I began to feel like a guinea pig in a lab. Doctors have been feeling me, smelling me and sticking needles into me since the breeze-blown shores of Burma faded away. Black doctors, yellow doctors, white doctors. One was a woman who did perfectly awful things.

I fumbled around in the darkness, found a light and gasped. My whole hide was a hideous sickly green. My chest was solid green, my abdomen a mottled green and my arms and legs striped like a tiger. Even the hairs on my legs had curled into little green knots.

TALE OF A SHIRT

"Now," I thought, "here we go for a nice long rest under the yellow banner of quarantine." I sat giving myself a tragic once over when the doctor came in. He was a meaty Scot with curly blonde hair. He looked as surprised as I felt but said nothing. "What is this?" I demanded. "Am I going bad or what?" He ran a speculative finger along the perspiration bubbles and it left a white streak.

"Do you ever take baths?" he asked. "Bath? Certainly; three times a day. Besides I'm in a continuous bath of perspiration."

"Aye?—well take one now—and don't use these any more." He picked up the nightshirt I'd bought in Burma. It had once been blue. Now it was streaky damp nothingness and I was dyed like an Easter egg.

I climbed into a bathing suit and hurried on deck where the rain came down in sheets. No home town Canadian has ever seen such rain or felt such heat. The thing was paralysing.

Junks ambled lazily past with tiny Chinese women pulling huge teak-wood sweep oars. The junks were nearly as big as one of Lipton's Shamrocks, the women smaller than twenty-year-olds, but they made the big lumbering hulks go. One of them had a sail which screamed at you in red, purple and black, "Made in Canada." It was made from flour mags. The woman working this ponderous hull had a baby strapped to her back and the little gaffer was crying pitifully. He wanted his mother to take him in out of the rain, but she kept on pulling the dripping sweep oar.

I soaped myself furiously and let the rain wash me down, but only a small part of the dye would soak out and I looked like some cadaverous hobgoblin just stepped out of my own grave.

'WARE TIGER SHARKS

The water below looked cool and inviting. We had come into a fast running part of deepest blue. The mud was far to the side and even in the half light of a rainy dawn I could see silvery fishes far under the surface. I stood on the rail and leaped in with my soap bar. It was marvelous swimming, so I crossed over to the palm-studded Malay shores and started back again. An officer on the bridge started to point at me excitedly, and the captain, wearing yellow pyjamas, came out bellowing like a bull.

"You idiotic nonsensical blankety blank so and so, did you ever hear of tiger sharks?"

He got a megaphone and supplied it with a choice echoing barrage of deep-sea language. Then the Lascars in crimson jackets lined the deck and started shouting and pointing to something at the back of the ship. I got alongside, but the accommodation ladder was too high to reach. The gang up top were still yelling like mad, but not doing much to help me out of the water. I couldn't see the tell-tale black fin of the South Sea killer, so I swam up alongside the ship, and when I reached the anchor chain pulled myself up until they lowered the ladder a bit farther. Then I swam back and came on board, where they marched me into the captain's room and did some big league bawling out. I was still pretty green, but the doctor found me sound in wind and limb and let me go. We had a cargo of flour for Malacca that would take six hours to unload, but we couldn't start until the rain stopped. Sometimes it rains here for a week, so I asked the skipper if I could go ashore.

"How you going—swim?" he demanded, sourly.

"No, I'll get one of the junks. Doesn't matter if I miss the ship. I can get a train down to Singapore."

CAPTAIN IS IRATE

"Oh, you can, eh? And what am I to tell the shipping office when I report a passenger missing? Just tell them you went for a swim, eh?" He kept on bawling me out, but afterwards said I could go. The Chinese stevedores who had come to unload the flour started fan-tan games and bridge tournaments under a big leaky awning, and the woman with the baby on her back took me ashore. I would have comforted the little chap, but he had some dark red sores on his head that didn't look so good.

The junk took me up some long canals with bridges over them. The bridges were shaped like the Bridge of Sighs in Venice. I got soaked, but it didn't matter because Malacca was a rabbit warren of glorious new sights and smells.

USED CARS AT BARGAIN

Near the clock tower, which was also reminiscent of the campanile at Venice, there was a vast field of used cars. Beauties, at the most absurd prices ever marked on a windshield. Machines that cost $5,000 at home could be bought here for $300. It was idiotic. There were solid, sound, well-conditioned machines for a ten-dollar bill. Not prewar wheezers, but 1930 models, more or less intact. A Burman eased himself out of a long deck chair to see if I'd have one of these bargains.

"The prices?" I asked. "What's the meaning? Here in the land of rubber you pay as much for one tire as for a whole car, including five tires."

"Over there," he said, pointing to a gasoline station. There is the answer." "Gasoline, $1.05," a sign said.

"That must be crazy," I said; "nobody could pay that."

"Of course not—so they sell their cars for nothing. Besides, a big import duty and heavy freight costs, we pay a gasoline tax of 35 cents a gallon," he explained.

"The tax was only 10 cents," he said, sighing for the good old days. "One day the Government raised it 25 cents more."

"They raised it 25 cents in one day without warning?"

"Oh, yes."

I stood in the rain wondering what would happen at home if they clapped 25 cents a gallon on gas, and as we drifted into an argument on prices the Burman invited me home for "brunch."

"For what?"

"Brunch," he smiled. "We combine breakfast with lunch in Malaya. Then we call in brunch. You will like it; yes?"

I said "Sure." So we climbed into rickshaws and rolled out of town among the rice fields, where women in black were working in the downpour.

We sat a crimson lacquered table and a Chinese brought bowls of things floating in vingear and fermented cane juice and other vile liquids.

"Perhaps you'd like a knife and fork?" he asked as he dipped his hands from one bowl to the next and into his mouth.

"Yes," I said, beginning to feel liverish. "Not very hungry. Late breakfast and all."

"Too bad," he sympathized. "Haven't got a knife and fork."

A LABORED LUNCH

Somehow I struggled with the pickled mangoes and salty herring and fermented sugar cane. Then the host shoved back his chair, loosened his loongi, or skirt, and called for cheerots. The Chinese brought fabulous lumps of tobacco. They looked explosive. I was invited to light one of these from a scented joss stick, and when the thing got throwing up a smoke screen the Burmese asked: "Do you mind if I bring in my wife?"

"Do I mind? Why, certainly not."

She came in shyly and sat on the floor. She kept watching me closely, but every time our eyes would meet she'd blush and look away in confusion. I wanted to get out of the place, but the fat fellow kept talking about bad times and ruination while we munched kashew nuts. The woman gave an order and the Chinaman sat a big spittoon beside her. She bit off a bulky lump of tobacco and chewed away mightily, but she certainly didn't have a good aim at that cuspidor, and I had to be quick with my feet. The rain drilled down on the tin roof and the Burman said there was no use going back to work, anyhow. "I'll show you the sacred pigs from New Guinea," he said. Tell you tomorrow.

Hon. J. Hinchliffe Not Resigning Post

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, yesterday issued an emphatic denial of a published report originating in Vancouver that he would retire from his post as head of the educational department to take over the duties of superintendent of education, the position now held by Dr. S. J. Willis.

Concerning the position of the superintendent of education, Mr. Hinchliffe said he was not aware that any change in that department had been contemplated.

UNEMPLOYED TO ATTEND PICNIC

Big Outing Is Planned at Gorge Park Tomorrow for Jobless of City

All unemployed workers, married or single, are invited to attend the picnic to be staged by the N.U.W.A. at the B.C. Electric Park at the Gorge tomorrow. Hundreds of applications have been registered by those who will attend the outing, and any who have not registered are requested to send in their names to 751 View Street by tonight.

A lengthy programme of sports has been prepared by an energetic committee, and an enjoyable day's outing is anticipated.

Many business men of the city have donated prizes for the events and given cash contributions to assist in providing food. Members of the committee state that provisions are urgently needed, and anyone desiring to help make the picnic a success is requested to send any contributions to the N.U.W.A. headquarters on View Street.

The B.C. Electric Railway Company has contributed $30 towards covering transportation costs, but as the committee has not sufficient funds to provide transportation both ways, this amount will go towards giving return fares.

JAPANESE FISHERMAN ARRESTED AT SKEENA

A Japanese fisherman, said to be the skipper of a fishing smack containing seven men, who made an attack on a white fisherman while hauling in his nets, was arrested yesterday by Provincial Police officers at Skeena, a radio message to headquarters at Victoria reported. The Japanese is held on a charge of intimidation.

The troubles between the Japanese and white fishermen in the Skeena district have arisen over differences said to exist between the fishermen and the canneries over the price to be paid for fish. This is the third arrest of Japanese to occur this week. Two others were released after they had paid a fine of $50. The radio message did not mention any further trouble.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach, accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralising effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation, and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Advt.)

SOLD LIQUOR TO TWO CONSTABLES

Frederick Moss, Taxi Driver, Fined $300 for Securing Whisky for "American Tourists"

Frederick Moss, taxi driver, was fined $300, or three months' imprisonment by Magistrate Jay in the city police court yesterday morning following his conviction on a charge of selling liquor contrary to the Government Liquor Act.

The accused was convicted on the evidence of Constables Lewis Parr and Samuel McKenzie who, posing as American tourists, engaged a taxi operated by Moss. They drove along the Marine Drive, the constables testified, and mentioned they would like a drink, and the driver suggested they go to the beer parlors, but the plain clothes men wanted "hard stuff."

The taxi driver took the two to the liquor store, where he purchased a bottle of liquor and returned to the car and drove to Brentwood, where the bottle was opened and drinks handed round. On return to the city, the driver was placed under arrest by Sergeant Arthur Bishop. Giving evidence on his own behalf, Moss said he had purchased the liquor for the men to oblige them, as he considered they were tourists.

Frank Higgins, K.C., appeared for the accused and maintained the transaction was not one that came within the provisions of the Government Liquor Act, and gave notice of intention to appeal.

NO BERRIES FOR BRITISH MARKET

B.C. Strawberry Crop Falls Far Short of Demand—Supply for Canneries Small

The British Columbia strawberry crop has fallen far short of the demand, a preliminary check of the harvested areas indicates. Field representative reports to the Provincial Department of Agriculture reveal a shortage of processed berries running into hundreds of tons.

The British market will suffer through the shortage to the extent of between 500 and 700 tons, this quantity having been spoken for early in the year and practically guaranteed to the importers, by British Columbia representatives in England. Fears are being expressed that the inability of the British Columbia growers to supply the demand for strawberries, processed, in the overseas market may further aggravate the importers.

It has always been the cry of the British importer that Canada, in many instances, could not be relied on for a continuity of supply of agricultural products, and this fact has been impressed on the growers of British Columbia by trade representatives from the Old Country.

British Columbia strawberry growers have suffered many setbacks through uncontrollable conditions during the growing season, and therefore the shortage of supply is not entirely the fault of the grower, it is stated, although trade experts maintain it would be more advantageous for the British Columbia grower to protect the overseas market, even at the expense of the local demand.

UNIVERSITY REPORT READY IN FEW DAYS

The report of His Honor Judge Peter S. Lampman, who was appointed a special commissioner by the board of governors of the University of British Columbia to investigate differences existing within the confines of the Vancouver institute of learning, will be available to the governors over the coming week-end.

Judge Lampman has completed his investigation, and has prepared his report, which is now being typed. The findings of the commissioner will go direct to the board of governors of the university, and will probably be made public early next week.

PROVINCIAL INDEBTEDNESS

The two features in the indebtedness of this country that require the most careful watching in the future are the bonded indebtedness of the provinces and the capital expenditures on the Canadian National Railway account. Provincial indebtedness has increased from $218,000,000 in 1916 to $919,000,000 in 1930. The Canadian National Railway Company since its inception has increased its bonded indebtedness by somewhere in the neighborhood of $600,000,000. In the meantime, of course, the National Debt has expanded, but that is due very largely to war expenditures and to obligations arising out of the war.

In the matter of provincial indebtedness no province has a better record than Quebec. Of the provinces of the Dominion it is second in population and second in wealth, but it is fourth in the total of its bonded indebtedness, with $76,735,292, and fifth in the amount of interest payment it has to make annually. Quebec, however, like all the provinces, has shown large increases in expenditures. They have gone up from less than $10,000,000 in 1916 to over $40,000,000 in 1930.

There should be a definite policy practised for some time to come of indulging in no new capital expenditures by provincial governments, unless in an emergency, as, for instance, for unemployment relief. The provincial debts appear to have passed beyond the point of being a question of merely provincial credit. During the past year the Dominion Government has had to come to the rescue of provinces by meeting their maturing obligations in New York in gold. It is true the provinces owe the Dominion the money thus advanced, and it will be paid. There remains, however, the knowledge that the amounts in question, when they became due, could not be shouldered by certain provinces in Western Canada.

Due to over-optimism in normal times and because of the clamors of popular opinion provincial governments were foolish enough to overspend. The lesson thus learned, one that is being rubbed in during the present period of depression, should have its effect. In the future the policy always ought to be to go slow where capital commitments are involved. In providing the interest and sinking funds for these there is an ever-growing drain on the taxpayers' pockets. What has to be kept in mind is that under our triple system of government—Federal, Provincial and municipal—about one-quarter of the national income goes out in taxes. That is altogether too high a proportion. There ought to be, by common arrangement between the various authorities, a decision reached as to the amount of taxation in the aggregate that can be imposed without interfering with industrial prosperity. That is one of Canada's greatest problems to be considered among the ways and means being devised to effect a restoration of better times.

THE OTTAWA CONFERENCE

Propaganda has been broadly and perhaps sufficiently defined as the art of influencing public opinion, a definition which may serve also to identify the art of advertising, said to be one of the very oldest arts in history. There is, however, a clear enough distinction in the use of the two terms. In ordinary language we advertise goods that we wish to sell; whereas doctrines, schemes, beliefs, opinions which we wish to make popular, are the subject of propaganda. Perhaps there is a slight tincture or trace of subtlety in the latter. The merchant openly advertises an article and tells of its excellent qualities and attractive price. The propagandist is apt to employ indirect methods and aims at introducing ideas into people's minds without arousing suspicion that he may have an axe to grind.

The devices of the propagandist are legion. Those who look forward with hope to the results of the Ottawa Conference will do well to be on their guard against the organized forces which desire that the Conference may be a failure. One way of influencing public opinion is to damn the Conference with faint praise, and, with the air and manner of a well-wisher, enlarge upon and exaggerate the difficulty of organizing our scattered Empire on an economic basis. Thus we are sorrowfully told that the Lancashire cotton delegates have been as yet unable to make a satisfactory bargain with the Canadian manufacturers in that field, that the Old Country wants a measure of reciprocal free trade within the Empire and that there is as yet little evidence that any near approach to it is practical, that Britain is really more anxious to conclude low tariff arrangements with foreign countries than preferential ones with the Dominions. The answer to all this is, of course, that a thousand difficulties do not make an impossibility.

The problems to be solved at Ottawa are not for mere amateurs. The Conference will bring together a very competent body of experts who know what can be accomplished and can form an intelligent idea of the interests and desires of the conferring countries. Nine-tenths of the work will be done in camera. There will be an active and anxious body of observers, but the findings and recommendations of the experts must finally be passed upon by the several Parliaments concerned.

The real struggle for an Imperial economic policy will begin in Canada when, with the proposals of the Conference before it, the Government lays its policy before Parliament. Then the lobbying will begin in earnest at Ottawa and propaganda will do its utmost to influence public opinion at large. Sir Norman Angell has said that one of the primary problems of democracy is that of enabling the layman to make use of the expert without that expert becoming his master, to have the expert on tap without having him on top.

A MASTER CRIMINAL

A remarkable career of crime has been ended, at least temporarily, by the conviction of Mohamed Mustapha Nafei, Egypt's king of smugglers. He has been sentenced to five years' imprisonment and fined £E.1,000. The punishment hardly seems to fit the crimes of which Nafei was guilty. For thirty years he has headed a gang importing drugs into Egypt. The strength of his operations lay in involving respectable men, and, having compromised them, using them mercilessly as his tools. He had a widespread organization, with ramifications all over the Levant. He rented several villas in the suburbs of Cairo and Alexandria which were hiding places for his contraband. He had a shipping company to facilitate his smuggling, and a chemical laboratory for disguising the drugs.

Nafei was perhaps the most complete master of crime of whom the modern world has any knowledge. Not only was he endowed with versatility and imagination but, to quote The London Times, "he lived up to the highest standards of competent and scientific villainy that have been set up by the late Edgar Wallace and other masters of detective fiction . . . He was in fact one of the most dangerous men engaged in the most dangerous and destructive of the anti-social professions. His commerce changed with the tastes of clientele and with the development of technique. In his early days hashish, followed at a long distance by opium, was the chief source of his gains. But the profits of the game were multiplied, and the struggle between traffickers and the Government grew more intense when first cocaine and then heroin became fashionable poisons. The characteristic smell of hashish often betrayed its bearers. White crystalline powders effective in tiny doses, odorless and easily mistaken by the inexpert eye for any one of a score of common medicinal preparations, were less easily detected and more easily concealed. The traffickers who made their hundreds of pounds from Greek and Syrian hashish made their thousands from the new drugs, and for a time it seemed that the Egyptian peasantry were to succumb en masse to the 'white drug' habit. Happily the counter-offensive, which Russell Pasha (Commandant of the Cairo Police) has led with such determination and courage, both in Egypt and at Geneva, is beginning to tell. The struggle is far from over; but the capture and punishment of Nafei, and the discovery of the links in his vast and sinister organization, may well mark a decisive stage in a hard-fought campaign."

The largest military flying boat has just been completed in England. Its loaded weight is thirty-three tons; it carries a crew of ten, and is intended to operate for long periods away from its base, and, moreover, is built to weather anything but ocean gales. The hull is 89 ft. 6 in. long and 31 ft. 6 in. deep. The span of the biplane wings is 120 ft. Between the wings there are set six 825-horse-power engines in three tandem pairs. The flying-boat is of duralumin construction. It is of a character expected to set a type for a flying-boat for use in trans-Atlantic service.

Official opinion in the United States appears to be that Europe should take further steps in disarmament before there is any consideration given to a reduction of her war debts to America. The trouble is that there is no real common denominator between war debts and armament expenditure in Europe. As well, the United States gives no guarantee that she will disarm proportionately to any reductions that might be affected among European Powers.

The only mandate which the British representatives to the Ottawa Conference have is from the British people, to bring about closer inter-Empire trade relations. Otherwise they have open minds upon which decisions will be registered as a result of the discussions at the Imperial Conference.

Note and Comment

By R. B D.

Could we forbear dispute, and practise love,
We should serve, as angels do above.
—Weller.

Almost everybody has had some experience of the psychological effects of the application of a wet blanket. We are beginning to understand something about the psychological effects of the application of a wet blanket. Every day, morning and evening, but chiefly in the evening, we read about the obstacles of the Imperial Economic Conference. After reading what the pessimists write and say about the Conference we wonder if it possibly can be that there is a place in the world—that is a place of any consequence—for writers and speakers who carry wet blankets, wrap them about every "proposition," and chill all constructive movements to the marrow in their bones.

* * *

In the matter of the Imperial Conference we are constantly reminded that if the assembly of Imperial statesmen and economists is to be even measurably successful, there must be "give as well as take," that if there are quids there must be quos. The assumption of the pessimists seems to be that the attitude of the Canadian delegates must be all for the quids and none for the quos. Of course there is no justification for such a position. The Canadian delegates from their leader down have repeatedly stated that they are ready to give as they expect to receive. There are of course many issues requiring adjustment, but there is no reason for assuming that divergent issues are incapable of adjustment.

* * *

Not that there may not be questions before the Conference capable of creating an embarrassing position. There is the question of Free State representation, for instance, which may be provocative of delicate issues and require deft handling. The Canadian government, some time before the old Irish question assumed a new phase as a result of the policy of de Valera, had invited the Free State to be represented at the Conference. We do not know what the Canadian government would have done about this matter if the controversy between the President of the Free State and the British government had broken out sooner, but, as the invitation had been extended, it could not be revoked while the issue between the two governments remained undetermined. The Canadian government was in the position of host to the entire delegation, and therefore was bound to receive all its guests at least with the usual conventional courtesy.

* * *

A few days ago The Colonist printed an article dealing with this phase of a situation which might easily be precipitated at Ottawa. Our contemporary The Winnipeg Tribune of Thursday last published an article dealing in an able and frank manner, possibly in what some authorities may consider a daring manner, with the possible consequences of the presence of a Free State delegation at Ottawa. The Tribune deals with the possible situation so comprehensively that we take the liberty of reproducing its article in full as of surpassing interest to readers of The Colonist. The article follows:

Ottawa professes to regard the relations of Ireland with Great Britain as of individual interest to these nations only, and not a question of which this Dominion need take cognisance so far as the Imperial Economic Conference is concerned. Canada is acting as host to the Imperial Conference. If two of the guests happen not to be on speaking terms, it is not the host's duty to interfere in any way. Such at least is the view taken by the Canadian government as it is unofficially reported.

Is it the right view? Are there not considerations which have not been duly weighed by the government at Ottawa?

In the first place, Canada is more than host. Canada has been entrusted by the other nations of the Empire with the task of making all preparations and arrangements for the Conference. There is a greater responsibility here than attaches merely to the duties of host. There is the responsibility for safeguarding the general interests of the Empire.

In the second place, is Ireland's quarrel with Great Britain alone? The basis of the difficulty is the refusal of the present Irish leaders to take the oath of allegiance to the King. The throne is not the exclusive possession of Great Britain. It is the one official link of Empire. When the Irish government refuses to take the oath of allegiance to the Crown it is putting itself out of touch with Canada just as much as it is putting itself out of touch with Great Britain.

What happens when the Imperial Conference meets? The first official action will be a resolution of loyalty to the King. Can the Irish delegates, refusing to take the oath of allegiance, subscribe to that resolution? Are they not altogether likely to make it the occasion for advertising again to the world their refusal to accept the British Crown as the symbol of Empire?

In other words, this is a family gathering. Foreign nations have no place in it. They may and doubtless some of them will be represented by observers, but only members of the British Commonwealth of nations can take part. Fealty to the common throne alone marks and embraces the members of the family. What part has Ireland there—in her present mood?

De Valera and his ministers may misrepresent Ireland, but that is Ireland's concern. So long as her duly constituted representatives are men who refuse to subscribe themselves to the one symbolic oath that places nations within the Empire, can they be accepted as having due place in the Empire's councils?

These are questions for Canada's consideration. Great Britain has made her position clear enough. The British government has officially stated that it will have no truck or trade with the Irish government while it maintains its present attitude. It is for Canada, however, not Great Britain, to say whether the invitation to the Irish Free State to attend the Conference shall stand.

The time is short. The Canadian government should at once weigh these considerations carefully. They suggest at least diplomatic inquiry of President de Valera as to the position he intends to assume at the conference. There is no reason why Canada—having full responsibility for the Conference arrangements—should permit it to be used as a further advertisement of Ireland's rebellious refusal to subscribe fealty to the symbol of Empire unity.

A MOTHER'S HEART

Men say that through the creeping centuries
The face of Earth has altered and grown strange;
That now the shifting sands of tossing seas
Obliterate wide lands, and mountains change
Their place with valleys where the rivers run;
That leafy forest aisles were once a plain;
For Nature's mighty work is never done,
And still her hands tear down, to build again.

But if one mother's heart could have lived on
Through all the cycles of the changing Earth,
While lands have crumbled into dust and gone,
While fair, new continents have come to birth.
It only, amid scenes forever new,
Would have remained still changeless and still true!

This time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 18.9 feet to the height of high water as above given.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Bonsbess drydock add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

PLAY WELL AND BE LUCKY

"To achieve the ultimate in bridge, as in life," Mr. Harry W. Young, of West Palm Beach, Florida, points out, "you must play well and be lucky." The observation is a very sound one. Life and bridge present us with countless opportunities to play well, but no matter how we play, unless the factor of luck comes to our aid, we must inevitably frequently see our best plays defeated.

An illustration of the factors of luck and good play is given on the hand shown below:

South—Dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

South, with his commanding spade suit and five and a half honor tricks, opened with the forcing bid of two in a suit and eventually reached the contract of six spades, after his partner had responded with three hearts. The bidding was not greatly over-optimistic, and with any opening except the one which was clearly marked in West's hand was makable against any defence.

The natural lead was the king of diamonds, and if South made the mistake of winning the first diamond trick, the contract could never be made. It was, of course, apparent that the heart suit in the dummy would furnish discards for the losers in South's hand, but they were beyond his reach, unless care was taken in the manner in which one of the two entries in the dummy was used.

Mr. Young was the only player to make six spades. He refused to win the first diamond trick, and thus left to West the problem of deciding how the hand should be further developed. Whatever shift West now made, the slam contract was assured. If a spade was led, then all the trumps would be drawn, followed by the ace-king of hearts, and the diamond ace would be permitted entry to discard the losing club and diamond from the closed hand. If the diamond suit was continued, the ace would win, and South would win two rounds of hearts, entering the dummy by ruffing his losing diamond with the spade nine. With this line of play he must take the risk that one opponent or the other held only two hearts, but, this bridge safely crossed, the slam would be assured.

To make this slam involved a considerable element of luck, but even luck was not enough, as, in order to realise the bonus for its accomplishment, the hand must be well played. After all, fate is fairly even in rewarding good play with the favors of luck.

TODAY'S POINTER

Success at the bridge table is a combination of good bidding, good play and good luck. The factor of luck we may not be able to control but we can control the bidding and the play

Saanich Council Will Consider Replacing Smaller Water Pipes

Possibility that many Saanich residents who have complained of the inadequate and dirty water supply in many regions of the municipality, may receive a more satisfactory service, loomed at a meeting of the Saanich Council Thursday night, when H. H. Allen, municipal engineer, was instructed to prepare a report on performing this work

Mr. Allen explained to the council that in many sections, two-inch mains, considerably corroded, were rendering the supply where six-inch mains were necessary. If the council deemed the change necessary, he continued, the work could be performed by relief workers, and approximately $6,000 worth of six-inch main, at present stored by the municipality, could be used. The only cost to the council would be the labor. He was instructed to prepare a report on the carrying out of the work, which may be considered at the next regular meeting.

Reeve William Crouch reported to the council on the recent convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at Nelson, stating that he felt it was one of the most successful ever held. He also made reference to the recent conferences between representatives of the union and the Cabinet ministers.

A MUNICIPAL AIRDROME

Sir,—May I presume on your space to reply to a letter from Mr. G. B. Lowry in today's issue.

If Mr. Lowry has the evidence, why not complain to the Attorney-General's Department, municipal inspector or the public prosecutor for the city of Victoria and get action, instead of waiting for "George" to do it? S. P. HOFFMANN.

1512 Amphion Street, Victoria, B.C., July 7, 1932.

SPIRITUALISM

Sir,—I have just read Mr. Edward's letter in your issue of July 5. I always think it such a pity to see religious arguments; there is always so much bitterness shown.

I suppose our friend has never studied the subject except on his own side, piling up verses for his own gratification. I notice he says that there is not one hint in the Bible of a person holding communication with spirits. I will quote just one—"Our Master, Christ, went into the mount and was transfigured, and there came to Him the spirits of Moses and Elias, who walked with Him and talked with Him, telling Him of the manner of His death." How could this be if the dead knew nothing?

Then in 1 Corinthians, chapters xii, xiii and xiv, will be found complete instructions for seances and the giving of spiritual gifts. Chapter xiii, verse 10, mentions discerning spirits, or seeing spirits. St. Paul warned his followers to test the returned spirits to see if they were of God or not. More sinners pass into the beyond than saints, so that it is quite easy to contact the wrong sort, hence this warning, which also is the meaning of the text Mr. Edwards quotes (1 Tim., iv, 1, 2)—"There are those who prefer contact with evil rather than good." Certainly a spirit has not flesh and blood; that returns to Mother Earth when we pass on; but it retains the likeness of the flesh, even to scars and wounds.

I could produce strings of quotations from the Bible, but of what avail is it? All that matters is, what kind of persons we are. Is there anything Christlike in our life in the way we help our brothers and sisters? Christ laid down no creed, beyond obedience to our Father God, and duty to our neighbor. Cut out the creeds and be Christlike, so shall we become as little children and enter the Kingdom of Heaven.

I may state that I am a member of the Church of England, but have studied Spiritualism (not Spiritism which is phenomena hunting), for the last twenty years. I have met some very Christlike Spiritualists, here and in the Old Country. Also I am sorry to say, many church members, with no Christ-Spirit in their lives whatever. As our Master said, "The letter killeth but the Spirit giveth life."

(MRS.) ETHEL SHOWERS.

Sevenoaks P.O., B.C., July 5, 1932.

MUNICIPAL AIRDROME

Sir,—Re Alderman Todd's letter in Tuesday's issue, I am content to wait, say two years, before I answer fully. Facts may then speak for themselves. By that time I may be able to land my own plane in my backyard, providing I can afford one, and municipal speculations are ended, school taxes where they should be and other economies effected, so that my taxes are cut in half. To look forward to such times makes one wish to live and not just exist.

WALTER J. DANDRIDGE.

HOLDUPS UNDER ARMS

Sir,—Nearly every day we read of fresh robberies under arms on the Mainland, and the perpetrators of the same—in most cases cowardly assaults—appear to be holding their own with impunity.

A short time ago a correspondent of yours, writing from Duncan, advocated the lash, which appears to be the only preventive for these holdups.

For example, I can well remember in the late sixties in London, England, when garroting was in full swing, and large numbers of people were really afraid to go out at night for fear of being pounced on from behind and having their thorax squeezed, whilst another gentleman went through their pockets. But when these garroters were caught and the magistrates sentenced them to a short term of imprisonment, but with the "cat o' nine tails" to be rigorously applied, garroting ceased as if by magic.

ALFRED MANSFIELD.

1761 Pembroke Street, Victoria, B.C., July 7, 1932.

GOVERNMENT AND BREWERIES

Sir,—In your issue of June 8 there is a statement by Major W. Angus dealing with the position of the breweries. Assuming that the figures given are practically correct, there seems to be need for some comment.

It may be wise in the first place to state that the writer of this letter is a small shareholder in Coast Breweries and has always voted Conservative. It is generally supposed to be sinful to criticize one's party, but criticism is most assuredly called for on this occasion.

In a great number of civilized communities brewing is recognized as a perfectly legitimate business, and it is so recognized here, although from the treatment experienced, one would imagine the contrary. The Liquor Board has told us that it has saved a great deal of money and that it is deserving of great credit. It may have done good work in many ways, but as regards the breweries its conduct is rather similar to that of the old highwaymen, or a Chinese mandarin indulging in the delightful game of "squeeze."

It must be remembered that the breweries are entirely in the hands of the British Columbia Government. They cannot sell in the province except through the Liquor Board. In consequence of this state of affairs, the latter can dictate terms. According to Major Angus these are the terms: The Government allows the breweries a profit of $1.90 a barrel and then resells to the beer parlors at a profit of $4.40. Moreover, the barrel has already paid taxes to the amount of $7. There is no doubt that this sort of treatment is politically safe. One may call it wise business management, spoliation or confiscation, but, of course, the extreme prohibitionists rejoice when the brewers suffer, and many other people do not worry until something affects them personally. The fact that a thing is safe is not always an index that it is right and fair. On this occasion it most certainly is not. K. R. STREATFEILD.

593 Victoria Avenue, Victoria, B.C., July 7, 1932.

VANCOUVER'S CRIME

Sir,—In your issue of July 7, under the heading of "Acts as Agent; Drawa Sentence": "Vancouver, July 6—Convicted of a charge of acting as an agent by purchasing a bottle of gin in a Government liquor store for two men who turned out to be city police operatives, Paul Thompson was fined $50, or one month in Oakalla, today. Thompson was outside the Howe Street store when an auto bearing a Washington licence plate drove up. One of the men called Thompson to the car and asked him what a permit cost. On being told the price, the man asked Thompson if he could buy a bottle for him. Thompson returned with the bottle and was giving the man his change when two detectives made the arrest. It was stated in evidence that Thompson had not requested any payment for his services."

What a splendid achievement this is, if correctly reported: to induce a man to commit a crime in order to arrest him!

Isn't there serious crime enough in Vancouver by all accounts in the papers to give these detectives something to work on instead of having to descend to this low-down method of making an arrest?

It does not seem British that this beastly stool pigeon method should be recognized in the courts, and stool pigeons should be charged with aiding and abetting the crime.

ALEX GILLESPIE.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of July 9, 1882)

A Failure—The new steamer Evangel, which was slated to carry the mails to Wrangell and Sitka, has proved to be an absolute failure and upon her last trip could not get above Nanaimo. Her engines seem to be too weak to force her through the water and the least head wind can hold her at a standstill.

Strike for More Pay—Cowichan Indians employed at the Delta cannery have struck for an increase in wages. They are now demanding three dollars per day, and this being the busy time of year with the salmon running, it is expected that they will get what they ask.

A Playful Hoax—When the local baseball team visited Seattle recently they were told that it was illegal to play here, but took no notice, and so a group of make-believe police rushed into the room and pretended to arrest them. One of the players drew his gun and came to his friend's rescue, but the fun was explained their hoax and the affair ended with drinks all round.

Bamfield News—Mr. Ralph returned from Bamfield Creek yesterday and reports that great progress is being made there. Houses and huts are springing up in all directions and real estate prices are increasing steadily.

"SWEEPSTAKES" STARS LEW CODY

Fine Supporting Cast in Feature Which Opens Today at Dominion Theatre

Lew Cody, "heavy" and featured player in "Sweepstakes," the Eddie Quillan starring vehicle on a racing theme now playing at the Dominion Theatre, should begin to feel perfectly at home on the RKO-Pathe lot, which produced "Sweepstakes."

During the past six months Cody has appeared in "What a Widow," Gloria Swanson's last production before moving over to the United Artists studio; and "Beyond Victory," starring Bill Boyd.

Just before working in "Sweepstakes," Cody made a two-reel burlesque entitled "Stout Hearts and Willing Hands," a Masquera comedy produced for RKO-Pathe by the Hollywood Masquera Club.

In "Sweepstakes," Cody augments a cast which includes Eddie Quillan, James Gleason, Marion Nixon, Paul Hurst, Frederic Burton, Emma Dunn, Tom Jackson and others. Albert Rogell directed from Lew Lipton's story.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Capitol—Warner Baxter in "The Man About Town."
Columbia — "Texas Gunfighter," starring Ken Maynard.
Dominion—Lew Cody in "Sweepstakes."
Empire — Schmeling-Sharkey fight pictures.
Playhouse—Dolores Del Rio in "Girl of the Rio."
Romano—"What a Widow!" starring Gloria Swanson.

Crystal Garden — Swimming and Dancing.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Herbert Brenon, who directed Dolores Del Rio in RKO-Radio Pictures' "Girl of the Rio," now at the Playhouse Theatre, the star's first film following two years of illness, has produced close to 150 successful films. Born in England, he gravitated to the stage in early youth and traveled with a famous English stock company throughout the United States. He began his film career ten years ago.

EMPIRE THEATRE Gene Raymond, former Broadway stage star, now plays his third and most important talkie role as Paul, young modern, in Paramount's dramatic romance of present-day life in a modern city, "Forgotten Commandments," which is now at the Empire Theatre. His first appearance was in Personal Maid," as the rich young wastrel who falls in love, at the finish, with Nancy Carroll. Then followed "Ladies of the Big House"—and now this new production, "Forgotten Commandments." As the romantic male lead, he is teamed with Sari Maritza, blonde sensation from England; Marguerite Churchill, former Broadway actress and supporting player in a dozen films; and Irving Pichel, Paramount character player, whose latest was "The Miracle Man," in which he played the atheist. Also on the same bill is the Schmeling-Sharkey fight.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Ken Maynard shares honors with his wonder horse, Tarzan, in his new Tiffany Productions' feature, "Texas Gun Fighter," now at the Columbia Theatre. Tarzan is one of the most capable equine performers on the screen, and each picture shows evidence of the patient training this animal has received. He already has a repertoire of tricks that are amazing and a source of delight to the spectator.

ROMANO THEATRE The well - dressed woman in search of fads will find an interesting costume accessory hint in Gloria Swanson's new United Artists comedy, "What a Widow!" in the form of an attractive jeweled fan presenting a make-up mirror on its reverse side and a lipstick in the handle. The novelty was designed by the producer-star to complete an evening ensemble. "What a Widow!" directed by Allan Dwan, is the current attraction at the Romano Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE Warner Baxter in "Man About Town" is the new screen offering to be seen at the Capitol Theatre today. The Fox star is said to present another of his fascinating romantic portrayals as the central figure in a fast-moving drama of political intrigue and romance, revealed against the background of Washington's international society. Karen Morley has the feminine lead in the new picture.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HEAT STROKE

That body of yours can accommodate itself to the hottest day, perhaps to two or even three hot days without any trouble, but if the heat is prolonged beyond that, sometimes symptoms of heat stroke or heat exhaustion occur. It would seem that after a few days of hot weather the heat actually accumulates in the body, as it cannot get away by ventilation or evaporation.

In sunstroke the individual is struck down suddenly while under the direct rays of the sun; the skin is hot and dry, and face flushed.

In heat stroke, however, as the symptoms are due to accumulation of heat in the body, the individual begins to feel weak or exhausted, and finally collapses. The skin is not hot and dry, but cold, and clammy, and pale.

It was really a heat stroke that killed 123 of the 146 British soldiers who were imprisoned in the Black Hole of Calcutta in 1856. The symptoms of the survivors here were intense thirst, great heat of the body, fast beating of the heart (palpitation), rapid and difficult breathing, delirium and unconsciousness.

The first thought in the treatment of heat stroke is to get the patient resting in bed. As long as he is lying quietly in bed, he cannot create much heat in the body, and that gives Nature a better chance to get rid of the accumulated heat.

An ice bag to the head, and ice applied to the whole body for a short time until the temperature gets down to about 102 deg. F., warmth should be applied to the feet and body, with the ice bag still at the head. Hot drinks—tea, coffee, milk—should be given as soon as the patient becomes conscious.

The room should be made cool, and the air kept moving by open windows or by an electric fan.

Where the breathing stops or is very difficult, it may be necessary to produce artificial respiration by the Schafer method, mentioned a short time ago.

If the heart is weak, the doctor may have to give a stimulating drug by the hypodermic method.

The ordinary smelling salts—aromatic spirits of ammonia—will restore consciousness.

For the next two or three days following the heat stroke, the patient should be given a very light diet and be fed at regular intervals.

LAST RITES HELD

The funeral service was held at Christ Church Cathedral on Friday afternoon for Mrs. Martha Jane Atkins, Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle officiating. Many friends attended the service and beautiful floral tributes were received. Interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: Lindley Crease, K.C., Capt. A. B. # NO PROSPECTS FOR ELECTION

Hon. R. H. Pooley, Acting Prime Minister, Says No Appeal This Year

"The Government of British Columbia has not the slightest intention of holding an election this year," was the definite statement given out at the Legislative Buildings here yesterday by Hon. R. H. Pooley, acting Prime Minister, in reply to a suggestion that the Government might seek a verdict from the electors in September.

The Attorney-General, who is acting for Premier Tolmie, who is in Ottawa, said it would be very unwise at this stage to disrupt Government procedure and departmental administration and to send minister and members into a campaign at a time when careful and determined application to the affairs of the province is most urgently required.

STRICT ECONOMY

"Aside from the expense of an election there are a great number of other things to be considered. The Government is determined to reduce the expenditures, and we have received instructions from our Finance Minister that economy must be practised in every one of the departments. How can we carry out these instructions in the midst of an election campaign?" Mr. Pooley asked.

The announcement from Mr. Pooley, speaking for the Government, dispels all rumors of an early election, and it is now certain that the Government will meet the Legislative Assembly once more before completing its term.

Concerning the much-talked-about coalition, Mr. Pooley had nothing to say on that score other than a proposition of that nature had not even been considered in Government circles.

SERVICES GIVE GOOD RETURNS

British Columbia Telephone Co.'s New Undertakings Attracting Business

The long-distance extensions of the B.C. Telephone Company, which have been inaugurated this year, are showing a good record in the new business created, says F. C. Paterson, district manager of the company here. The transcanada connection, which came into existence on January 25, has developed a satisfactory amount of business, and the same can be said of the Prince Rupert connection, which utilizes air service throughout a part of the way.

In February the company opened up its lines to points along the P.G.E., affording the opportunity for residents of Victoria and other Coast cities to talk with the mid-provincial parts in the old Cariboo mining areas, which have of late come into prominence again.

ABUNDANT CONFIDENCE

The enterprise of the British Columbia company in invading new fields affords proof of an abiding faith in the province, which is very gratifying.

In a year, when there might have been some excuse for curtailing further expenditures, this company has manifested abundant confidence in the future of the Pacific section of the Dominion.

TRANSCANADA PROJECT

It is gratifying, in view of this, to learn that the investments made have been attended with success. In the case of the transcanada enterprise, the B.C. Telephone Company's contribution to the system was the coupling up of the line between the existing services in the province with the Alberta lines. The task which was faced by the local company was the most difficult section of the whole line.

With respect to the Prince Rupert service and that to the P.G.E. points, the undertaking was one confined to the B.C. Telephone Company itself. In doing what it did, the company was assisting in the progress of the province and was sharing in the development of the more distant parts of British Columbia.

U.S. LUMBERMEN MAY CUT OUTPUT

Would Limit Production to Market Needs at Cost—Federal Aid Sought

PORTLAND, Ore., July 8.—Federal aid in a plan to halt the manufacture and sale of lumber at less than the actual cost of production was solicited by Governor Julius L. Meier Thursday in a message to United States Senator Charles L. McNary.

The Governor said his message was sent at the instigation of Pacific Northwest lumbermen in an attempt to save their industry from an economic collapse.

He said the lumbermen propose to enter an agreement to limit production to the amount which domestic and foreign markets will absorb at a price at least equivalent to the cost of operation. Indications are that at least a hundred lumber manufacturers may be committed to the proposal.

Building Society Awards by Draw

A drawing for first mortgage loans free of interest, took place at the semi-annual meeting of the Greater Victoria Building Society in the Pemberton Building last night. The holders of the successful shares were Miss Margaret Mackintosh and A. E. Mallett and George Pilmer. The drawing committee consisted of C. Ascroft, G. F. Waites and E. C. Rossiter. A satisfactory financial statement covering the past half-year, was adopted by the meeting. The president, William Marchant, occupied the chair.

Many Sections of British Columbia Show Improvement

Feeling of Increased Confidence Noted—Finance Minister Says Government Economies Will Continue—Orders Departments to Cut Expenses

WHILE conditions generally throughout the province are showing improvement and there appears to be a feeling of increasing confidence among the people due to the reopening of industrial concerns that have been idle for many months, Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, considers it necessary for the Government to continue its policy of rigid economy, and has again instructed heads of all departments to reduce expenditures wherever possible, so as to continue to keep them within the revenue.

Announcement of these instructions was made by the Finance Minister yesterday, who further declared that the reductions would be sought in the general and ordinary expenditures of the departments rather than in the staffs, as the Government had no desire at this time to increase the "bread line" of the province.

REDUCTION NEEDED

"Every department of the Government is fully aware of the necessity to reduce expenditures and to secure all possible revenue, and all are working to that end," said Mr. Jones, in an interview at the Legislative Buildings on conditions generally.

The Minister of Finance does not appear to be worrying over the general situation and does not seem to be very perturbed. "The province is financially sound. We are still signing cheques and the cheques are still being paid by the banks, and all accounts are being paid as they come due, and despite all the hair-raising rumors, the Tolmie Government is still carrying on," the minister said with a smile.

DIFFICULT TIMES

The Government of British Columbia, the minister stated, is not unlike every other provincial government in Canada. "We are facing a very difficult situation, but I would not say it was a critical one, and we are doing everything that is humanly possible to meet that situation, and the only way in which it can be done is by a reduction in expenditures all round.

"I might say further that the situation in many of the municipalities of the province is not nearly as bad as some people seem to think. I note that in many municipalities tax collections are as high as 80 and 90 per cent, which indicates a much better condition than a year ago," said Mr. Jones.

MILLS ARE OPENING

According to reports reaching the Minister of Finance's office, there are a number of new shingle mills going into operation throughout the province and giving employment to a number of men. It is understood that a large lumber mill is to start operations on the Mainland this month, having received orders from the Prairies for lumber. Mr. Jones said he had learned that the demand for finished lumber on the Prairies has been steadily increasing, all of which, he declared, was encouraging.

"We are driving for economy, and with careful scrutiny of all departmental expenditures the Government will pull through the difficult situation we are facing without having to resort to drastic measures," concluded the minister.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

We rovers often get asked the most difficult of questions to give a ready answer to, and we have to cudgel our brains to save us the humiliating experience of giving ourselves away.

Not so very long ago, as we were meandering through Beacon Hill Park, we ran across two very nice young ladies, and they inveigled us into rashly acknowledging that we could, on the spur of the moment, answer any reasonable question, more or less sanely, always providing the subject was not entirely foreign to us.

There are some people who vainly imagine that we know nothing about the very things we do know something, and these sane people also vainly imagine that we know a whole lot about the very things of which we haven't the faintest idea. So there you are! Between the two extremes we two rovers fall into many a trap and only by the merest good luck do we extricate ourselves with or without distinction.

THE SILVERY MOON

The lively conversation lead us round about several subjects, and finally directed us into the slough of despond, for one of the two very nice young ladies (I think the very nicest of the two) said, "Of course, Mr. Rover, Sr., you can tell us when is the next full moon!"

"I don't exactly know," I responded, feeling a bit cheap at that.

"You don't know?" she said, with a doubtful smile that might mean almost anything.

"Well, you see, my chum Rover, Jr., always attends to our dates, and no doubt he can answer that."

And Rover launched forth into a lengthy tirade against the system in vogue, which makes the various phases of the moon always come on a different date, each month, and as a soothing ending to his discourse on the courses of the silvery moon, he told us all (for I, too, needed the exact information) that there will be a full moon this July 17; that is a Sunday.

WHERE, O! WHERE!

Then, to make matters worse, for me, the other young dame asked me where I thought was the best place to spend the evening of a full moon.

That nonplused the elder rover, considerably, and I ran over in my mind all of the places I would choose to spend a full moon evening, always provided that I had a young and tender partner to share the delights of a full moon-evening with; a provision that is never likely to be mine at my time o' life; and yet, I have hopes!

Also provided that my tiresome companion, the younger Rover, is at least seven miles away and I am safe from his interfering and buttinsky bally-hoo.

As my reply to her young inquisitiveness was almost, if not quite, as lengthy as Rover's disquisition on the silvery moon, I will spare you its recital, verbatim; but, I must add the gist of it in a line or two of the rankest doggerel, which may aid you in answering this question should you ever be in a similar predicament.

TO RUTH

Were I a moonbeam, I would penetrate
Thy lattice, where soft curtains court the breeze,
That lifts the nodding leaves upon the trees
On Summer evenings, to illuminate
Love-darkened corners and annihilate
The shadows there, and bring sweet peace
Unto the margin of thine own dream-seas,
And light thee, waking, with hope—combinate.

And I would haunt the deepest woodland glen
And lend my light to dancing fairies, there;
I'd tip the wavelets 'cross the sad lagoon
And make it laugh; and, in the world of men,
Steal where young lovers wander without care;
Were I a searching beam of Love's full moon!

LOOKING BACKWARDS

Few of us should look backwards, it is human nature to look ahead. In the year 1920 we were selling Muskrat coats for $275 and today the very same type of coat can be sold by us for around $125. Now look ahead and we predict that within a few months this same coat will be selling for at least $200. So why not buy it now? We will gladly open an account for you, and no embarrassing questions will be asked. FOSTER'S FUR STORE, A. E. Alexandor, owner. ***

MANY FAMILIES AIDED IN JUNE

Saanich Welfare Society Rendered Assistance to 425 Persons Last Month

Receiving of reports on the activities during June and the country fair staged at the Shrine auditorium constituted the chief business items of the meeting of the Saanich Welfare Association, held in the Tillicum School this week.

Eighty-one families were given assistance during the month, it was stated, these representing 425 persons. Thirty-two new pairs of boots were given out and nineteen pairs of used ones. Eighteen pairs were repaired. Sixty-four articles of new clothing and seventy-seven pieces of used clothing were distributed. Many cases of need for wood, blankets, vegetables and eggs were also attended. Thanks were expressed to the many donors.

While the definite amount was not known, it was stated that the proceeds of the country fair had been most satisfactory and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to all who assisted.

A series of bridge parties will be arranged for the coming Winter, it was announced, the proceeds to aid the association's work.

PREPARING DATA FOR CONFERENCE

Canadian Fruitgrowers to Present Comprehensive Brief to Imperial Session at Ottawa

When the delegates to the Imperial Economic Conference assemble at Ottawa this month, they will be given an opportunity of learning all about fruit growing in Canada.

By an arrangement with the Canadian Horticultural Council of Canada, in co-operation with the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture, a comprehensive brief on Canadian fruit culture is being prepared. This brief will form the basis for a review of the industry, and will also inform the conference of the possibilities of inter-Empire trade in this commodity.

IMPORTANT PRODUCT

Canadian fruit growing, especially in British Columbia and some of the Eastern Provinces, forms an industry which is being recognized as one of the staple products of the country and considerable attention has been directed to this phase of farming by overseas representatives of the Dominion in the Old Country.

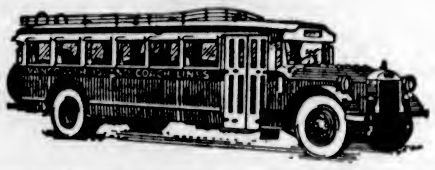

E. J. Chambers, of Vernon, a member of the Canadian Horticultural Council, president of the Associated Growers, and chairman of the provincial economic committee, has summoned the members of the latter body to a meeting to be held in Vernon on July 14, at which all phases of fruit growing will be discussed and instructions prepared for the guidance of Mr. Chambers at the Imperial Conference.

PUBLISHER'S SON IN DIVORCE SUIT

SEATTLE, July 8.—A divorce suit was filed in Superior Court here today against Clarence B. Blethen, second son of Colonel C. B. Blethen, publisher.

Young Blethen and Miss Dorothea Bow, a nurse, eloped last October, and were married in Bellingham, after they found it impossible to obtain a licence and be married the same day in Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. Blethen's complaint said the couple had not lived together since January 10, and alleged her husband treated her in "a cruel and inhuman manner."

The complaint also said young Blethen was "extremely extravagant and contracted large debts." Mrs. Blethen asked that she be awarded alimony to one-third of Blethen's income.

Government Aid Is Sought in Fight to Cut Gasoline Price

Business Men Enlist Support of Hon. J. W. Jones —Investigation Started—City Council Arranges Conference With Independent U.S. Operators

EVENTS moved fast yesterday in the fight to secure cheaper gasoline when a representative group of business men waited upon Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, and enlisted his assistance in the campaign.

While business men and civic officials discussed in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday the recent increase in the wholesale price of motor fuel, steps were being taken by the industrial committee of the City Council to secure prices on the delivery of gasoline in bulk to the retail trade here from independent operators in California.

STARTS INQUIRY

At the same time, F. E. Harrison, Western representative of the Federal Department of Labor, started his investigation of the price increase for the Dominion Government.

Mr. Jones assured the committee of business men who waited upon him yesterday that he would take steps to place the whole matter before Premier S. F. Tolmie, who is now in Ottawa and in the proper location to make a protest and to see that such a protest brings results. He told the delegation he could see no justification for the increase ordered by the wholesalers. He explained, however, that authority in the matter of taking action on behalf of the Provincial Government rested with the Premier, and that the Premier would be given full particulars so as to be well advised before acting.

WIRES OTTAWA

Following the conference with Mr. Jones, acting Premier Pooley telegraphed to Premier Tolmie the details of the situation. This telegram was supplemented by one from Mayor David Leeming, on behalf of the various bodies represented at the meeting. In this telegram the Mayor asked Premier Tolmie to press the matter forcibly upon Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and the proper departments to deal with the situation.

The message protested against the increase, and pointed out that inasmuch as it was confined to British Columbia, it was illogical in view of the fact that the water haulage on gasoline from California was much lower in cost than by rail transportation to Prairie provinces.

ARRANGES CONFERENCE

Alderman W. D. Todd, chairman of the industrial committee of the City Council, told the meeting at the Chamber of Commerce that the city had arranged to meet representatives of two independent companies dealing in gasoline from Seattle to discuss what could be done in the matter of introducing an independent supply to Victoria.

Alderman Todd, prior to the meeting, told a representative of The Colonist that a price of 19 cents to the retailers already had been quoted by one company, and that several business men had offered to finance storage facilities if a guaranteed supply at a price lower than the present wholesale rate could be obtained.

FIGHT TO FINISH

"As far as I am concerned," the alderman stated, "I will fight this increase to the finish. We already are paying too much for gasoline without having another 2 cents added to the price," he declared.

At the gathering held in the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, representatives of the City Council, Chamber of Commerce, Victoria Branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, automobile dealers, Publicity Bureau, service clubs and various commercial bodies attended.

ENDORSES MOTION

A resolution from the Vancouver branch of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, which had been forwarded to the Provincial Government, was presented to the meeting, and after discussion this was endorsed with the addition of another clase. The resolution from Vancouver reads as follows:

"Public opinion is strongly opposed to any increase in so essential a commodity as gasoline. We believe our Government has a definite responsibility in protecting the interests of the public and is obligated to take immediate action in bringing about a cancellation of this unjustifiable 2-cent increase by the gasoline distributors. Kindly wire your assurance that definite action will be taken immediately. Also state in wire just what revenue the Government has received through the sale of gasoline for each of the following months: April and May, 1931, and February, March, April and May of this year."

SUPPORTS PROTESTS

After this motion was considered and endorsed, the following clause was added after a vote of the meeting was taken:

"This meeting strongly endorses the telegrams sent to you by the Automobile Club of British Columbia, Vancouver, regarding the recent increase of two cents a gallon in the price of gasoline and adds that this increase will undoubtedly affect the tourist travel which has already suffered a decrease of 30 per cent on Vancouver Island, to an alarming extent and with decreasing revenues in all commercial enterprises, an increase of 7 per cent in the cost of motor fuel has reacted in the immediate withdrawal of many vehicles from the road."

The delegation which was appointed to meet the Minister of Finance consisted of Mayor David Leeming, of the publicity bureau; James M. Wood and Robert J. Jameson, representing the automobile dealers; Frank Partridge, for the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Harold Husband, of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines; R. H. B. Ker, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Ald. W. D. Todd, for the City Council; W. Skillings, of the Gyro Club, and R. R. Webb, secretary of the Automobile Club.

MINISTER AGREES

After hearing the views of the delegation, Mr. Jones intimated he was in full sympathy with the delegation. At a time like this he could see no justification for the advancing of the price.

When the subject of the increase in the gasoline tax was alluded to, Mr. Jones pointed out he had a duty as Minister of Finance to find the revenues necessary to carry on affairs. He had to find money to supplement that raised by automobile users to provide the roads that the public had demanded.

REVENUES INCREASE

He gave the information, however, that the revenue from the gasoline tax had increased as a result of the added impost for the two months for which records were available. These were the months of May and June.

This information appeared to come as a surprise to some of those present.

Mr. Jones said he was not in a position to say as to whether the amount of gasoline sold in those months was larger than the year before. He was concerned, he asserted, in the securing of the revenues and had not gone into all the details connected with it.

The minister declared he would consult Acting Premier Pooley, and assured them the Premier would be communicated with and the views of the delegation presented to him. He was in Ottawa and would be in a position to present the demands of the delegation before the members of the Dominion Government.

CUT IN RELIEF PAY PROTESTED

Trades and Labor Council Strongly Objects to Curtailment of Assistance

A protest against any further cutting of the direct relief allowance to married and single men, particularly married men, will be sent to the Provincial Government by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council.

At its last meeting considerable criticism was voiced against the proposed cut from $30 to $20 a month direct relief to married men. They were nothing but pittances and a family could not live on $30 a month, it was contended.

The meeting also went on record as opposed to any further increase in the working hours for single men in the relief camps on the ground that the single men already were giving service far in excess of money received in the way of a monthly allowance and board and lodgings.

SEIZED DRUGS WOULD FETCH HALF-MILLION

SEATTLE, July 8. — Narcotics with a wholesale value of $12,000, customs men said, and a potential retail value of $500,000 in this country, were seized in a rowboat alongside the Japanese freighter Venice Maru here last night.

Four men are held in connection with the seizure, which weighed 120 pounds and was packed in eighty tins. The prisoners are George Black, who lives on Harbor Island; Masaichi Kagihawa, T. Ito, steward on the ship, and T. J. Yashicka, fish company proprietor.

The first two were in the rowboat with the narcotics. The customs men said the others were arrested on the ship, which arrived from Yokohama yesterday.

What Today Means

"CANCER"

If July 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:10 a.m. to 10:45 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

There will be a right about face change in astrological influences on July 9, and yesterday's serious, heavy mood, will be replaced by a true holiday spirit. Do not attempt to rush through quick sales, or be foolish enough to sign any documents without a thorough and careful perusal of their contents, with an eye to possible "catches."

The child born on this July 9 will be shy and absent-minded. It will inherit from some near or remote ancestor, a lurking obstinacy, which will creep out at unexpected times. Its teachers will find it dreamy and inattentive, but far from dull or stupid. If it tried, it would never need be at the bottom of its class.

You have an expansive, agreeable and careless nature. You are fond of adventure, full of life, and are never the killjoy of any social gathering. You are usually ready for any fun—clean and harmless—in which you have been invited to join.

Your unpunctuality and innate untidiness distress many of your associates, but it is useless to expect you to reform. You are always losing or misplacing things—especially so, if a woman—and seem to have little appreciation of the value of things. "Why worry?" is very much your attitude toward life, and you let others lose their sleep for you. This attitude may not always be a fair one, but it certainly helps you to keep your youth. Children do not find you on a "grown-up" inaccessible plane, and you often play the Pied-Piper of Hamelin's role.

You are overripe in some ways and callow in others; extremely clever at some things, and almost stupid in other directions. You are not given to happy mediums, and live in a universe of superlatives. You are excitable and exaggerated in your emotions, although you could not be called a very deep feeler. In most of your problems, instinct is your guide. A considerable amount of happiness is pictured within your home.

The Breton, or "onionman" beret, is popular in France this season.

FREDERICK OAK TO FACE TRIAL

Former Soldier at Work Point Barracks Committed to Higher Court

Frederick W. Oak, former soldier of one of the militia units stationed at Work Point Barracks, was committed for trial at a higher court by Magistrate Jay, in the city police court yesterday.

Oak was given a preliminary hearing on the charge of arson in connection with the burning of the military hospital at Work Point on February 27, 1931, and the magistrate found there was sufficient evidence, after hearing the case for the prosecution, to warrant the accused being committed for trial.

R. C. Lowe, counsel for the accused, did not present any evidence to the court, reserving defence. Oak was released on bail in the sum of $5,000 in two sureties by Judge Peter S. Lampman, in County Court yesterday afternoon. E. V. Finland conducted the hearing for the prosecution.

CAN BEAT JACK, SAYS DEMPSEY

Former Title-Holder Confident That He Could Lick Present Champion

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Jack Dempsey would like to fight Jack Sharkey for the heavyweight championship of the world.

"If there's one man I can beat it's Jack Sharkey," the former champion decided here last night in a radio interview. "I would like to fight him for the championship of the world."

Dempsey recalled knocking Sharkey out in the seventh round of a fight in 1927, and said he believed the same tactics he used then to defeat the "Boston Gob" would be successful again.

"I have looked at the Sharkey-Schmeling pictures and think Sharkey has slowed up considerably since I fought him," said Dempsey. "Furthermore, he is the type of fighter I think I can beat. He comes in on you, and is particularly susceptible to a body attack." Dempsey said he would like to have a fifteen-round bout with Sharkey to give him time to wear the champion out. He added, however, the time is not now ripe for such a fight, with boxing at a low ebb throughout the country.

Local Body Joins With Cowichan Association in Outing at Experimental Farm

A joint picnic of the Victoria and Saanich Farm and Dairymen's Association and the Cowichan Dairymen's Association, which are affiliated, was held at the Dominion Experimental Farm, Bazan Bay, on Thursday. The visitors from Cowichan to the number of about forty arrived by way of the Brentwood ferry, joining the 250 local participants.

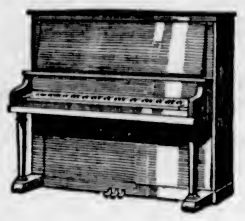

Those attending brought baskets, thus providing for a bountiful meal on the picnic grounds at the farm. E. M. Straight, superintendent of the farm, extended every courtesy to the visitors, who were taken over the farm on an inspection tour.

There was a programme of races, which provided for competitions for the men, women and children. The arrangements were carried out by the executive committee, with A. G. ## OLD ENEMIES AT AIR MEET

Pilots Once Opposed to One Another Watch British Planes Perform

The presence of German war "aces," men who fought in the air on the Western Front and are credited with many victories over Allied airmen, gave an unusual note to the garden party held by the Royal Aeronautical Society at Hanworth aerodrome, near London, recently. They met and chatted with English pilots whom they had encountered during the war, and together watched the evolutions of present-day single-seater fighters which in a few minutes would have swept the skies of every aircraft in sight during the war years.

That the next war in the air will demand even higher qualities of quick decision and cool calculation than the last was amply demonstrated when Flight-Lieutenant C. S. Staniland ascended in the Fairey Firefly fighter. Speeds have nearly doubled since 1918, not only when flying level, but in the dive. Modern British single-seater planes dive at around 400 miles an hour, a velocity perhaps easier to appreciate if it be expressed as 600 feet a second. Such stupendous speed means literally that the pilot must think and act in split seconds.

WITHOUT ENGINE

Staniland hurled his airplane through breath-taking rocket climbs which ended in two upward spins, the machine almost literally hanging on the propeller. He looped, rolled, dived and swept across the aerodrome at terrific speed. The enormous reserve of power in the supercharged Kestrel motor and the "cleanness" of design of the airplane was forcibly brought home when, after a steep dive, Staniland set the airplane in an almost vertical climb, half-rolled it on to its back and shut off the engine. So great had been the impetus of the dive under the urge of the mighty engine and so small is the air resistance of this beautiful machine that it continued to climb steeply upside down for some seconds without the engine.

Entirely different, yet equally attractive, was Flight-Lieutenant Clarkson's display in a Moth light airplane. Flying inverted, he utilized the magnificent control qualities of the machine to the full in a series of lovely and perfectly-executed manoeuvres, including a number of figures of eight with vertically banked turns. No better inverted flying has been seen.

Skeena Salmon Fishermen Are Not Satisfied

PRINCE RUPERT, July 8 (CP).—Salmon fishermen on the Nass, whites, Japanese and Indians, are all out fishing, but on the Skeena the tie-up continues. An offer from the canners of thirty cents straight to independent fishermen and concessions on nets to the others, which would bring the price up from twenty-seven and a half cents to thirty cents, was flatly refused, the men standing out for forty cents or nothing.

JOBLESS MEN TAKE RIDE FOR NOTHING

Boarding the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway train at Ladysmith, when northbound from Victoria yesterday, some twenty-five jobless men, residents of South Wellington, rode home without paying fares, refusing to do so. At the request of the conductor the men gave their names to him as they left the train. What action, if any, will be taken could not be ascertained here yesterday.

France has further increased the proportion of foreign wheat in flour.

The ship has a number of round-trip California passengers aboard, and they will have all day to spend visiting the varied points of interest in and around Victoria. She will be at Ogden Point Piers while in port.

BRITISH COMPANIES APPOINT SUCCESSOR TO LATE CHAIRMAN

Alexander Shaw, who has been elected chairman of the Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation Company and the British India Company, succeeding the late Earl of Inchape, was for some years chairman of the Shipowners' Parliamentary Committee and was president of the Chamber of Shipping of the United Kingdom in 1927. He has served on the Board of Trade Advisory Council and is one of the two shipping experts on the Imperial Shipping Committee. He is a director of the Bank of England and has taken a prominent part in public discussions of war debts and reparations. He is strongly opposed to suggestions of subsidies for shipping.

F. C. Allen, newly-appointed deputy chairman and managing director of the two companies, also has had a distinguished record in shipping. He is chairman of the council of the Shipping Federation and of other maritime organizations and was president of the Chamber of Shipping in 1931. For several years he has been active as a conciliator in labor affairs. Sir William Crawford Currie, joint deputy chairman and director of the same companies, also has had wide experience in shipping as well as in political and commercial affairs in India.

Prominent New York Shipping Man Paid Visit to Victoria

Looking over possibilities for freight for his ships, H. L. Luckenbach, head of the Luckenbach Steamship Company of New York, was a visitor to Vancouver Island during the week. It was his first visit here, and he stated before leaving that if there was any chance of doing business, he would send his ships along. Mr. Luckenbach was taken out to Butchart's Gardens and introduced to the Colwood Golf Club by Henry King, of King Brothers, shipping agents.

Mr. Luckenbach brought his own car with him, and had come up the coast from California, accompanied by Mrs. Luckenbach. While in Victoria they were guests at the Empress Hotel.

The head of the Luckenbach Steamship Company is one of America's leading yachtsmen, and his boats have sailed in many international yachting events. Several years ago, his yacht won the King of Spain's Cup in the race across the Atlantic

TOWED THROUGH PANAMA CANAL

Wheat-Laden Sailing Ship Took Short Cut for Ireland

Transit of the Panama Canal by a sailing ship is a sufficiently rare event to be specially recorded in The Panama Canal Record, official organ of the Canal administration. The last issue of The Record contained the following notice of such a transit:

"The Swedish sailing ship C. B. Pedersen arrived at Balboa on the evening of May 24, 1932, en route from Melbourne, Australia, to Cobh, Ireland, with a cargo of 2,960 tons of wheat. She tied up at Balboa for water and to undergo repairs to damage incurred on her voyage from Australia, and transited the Canal in tow of a tug on June 5.

"The C. B. Pedersen is one of the few sailing vessels remaining in the commercial trade. Built in Italy in 1891, she is 289 feet long, 40 feet beam, and of 2,141 gross tons. She made one other transit of the Canal, on July 31, 1930, at which time she was also making the voyage from Australia to Ireland with a cargo of wheat.

"Among the crew of the C. B. Pedersen on her last visit to the Canal were a number of cadets in training for the merchant marine service."

Trading Profit for Past Period Greater Than Previous Year

In spite of the depression, both the Reardon Smith Line and the Leeds Shipping Company of Cardiff have shown very satisfactory results for the year ended March 31. The Reardon Smith Line, which has a fleet of twenty-four steamers and two motorships, with a total deadweight of 288,560 tons, showed a profit of £86,332 on trading, compared with £52,079 in the previous year, after providing for repairs, surveys and laid-up ship expense.

Leeds Shipping Company, which has a fleet of seven steamers of 54,490 tons deadweight, showed a trading profit of £26,096, compared with £17,345 in 1931. The Reardon Smith fleet has been written down to £6 a ton and the Leeds Shipping Company fleet to £6 15s a ton.

FEWER TRAPS WILL OPERATE IN ALASKA WATERS THIS YEAR

A reduction in the catch of Alaska pink salmon is anticipated for the season now opening, due to adverse market conditions, according to information made public by the United States Commerce Department's Bureau of Fisheries. There also is expected to be some reduction in the catch of other varieties, although the demand for reds and kings is much better at this time than for pinks.

The voluntary closure of 170 traps of the 478 that operated last season in Central and Southeastern Alaska will tend to curtail production. These 170 traps captured approximately 80,876,000 pounds of the total catch of 467,664,000 pounds of salmon taken last season by all types of gear. Traps take slightly more than 50 per cent of the total catch. The reduction in the number of seines and gill nets will not be as great as the reduction of traps.

The reduction in fishing effort, especially as far as pinks are concerned, will increase the escapement to the spawning grounds. As the cycle of pinks is two years, Bureau of Fisheries men say that the run of pinks should reflect this condition in 1934. If the escapement of reds is increased due to decreased fishing, the influence would not be felt on the run until 1936 or 1937, as this variety has a four or five-year cycle.

SHIP FLOATED INTO DRYDOCK

Empress of Russia Having Seasonal Overhaul—Sailing Next Saturday

Arriving at Esquimalt Harbor early yesterday morning, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Russia, was successfully floated into the Dominion Government drydock by Captain G. R. Parker, dock superintendent, and yard employees, assisted by workmen from the plant of Yarrows Limited, which has the contract for the work now being done on the big ship.

The second largest ship to enter the big drydock basin, the Russia by no means takes up all the space, and another good-sized ship could be simultaneously accommodated. The largest vessel yet to occupy the dock is the Ss. Empress of Canada; but she will be deprived of this honor shortly when the greatest of Canadian Pacific ships in the Pacific will be placed in the drydock for seasonal overhaul.

The work on the Russia consists of cleaning and painting, about 100 men being employed. The work will be completed this evening and the liner floated shortly after, when she will proceed to Vancouver to get ready for her westbound crossing to Orient ports next Saturday.

Social Feature of Tennis Week to Be Plantation Dance

Out-of-Town Players at British Columbia Tennis Championships at Willows to Be Entertained While Here

WITH schools closed and the Summer holiday spirit in the air, formal social events are practically at a standstill once more. Sport and its associated activities are, for the time being at least, almost completely absorbing the energies of the younger set. In Victoria, during the coming week, the premier event, socially and athletically, will be the British Columbia tennis championships, which, while not drawing as large an entry as last year, are attracting a number of brilliant players from the Pacific Coast States and from other parts of Canada.

In connection with the tournament, the premier social event will be the flannel dance to be held at the Plantation - by - the - Sea next Thursday evening. As the tournament will by that time be well advanced, players will be past the point of requiring formal introduction, and the novel and informal setting is expected to give quite a fillip to the annual affair. An able committee, composed of Miss Peggy Jackson, Miss Mona Miller and Mr. C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, has charge of the preparations, and some novelty features will be inserted to suit the occasion.

PRIVATE AFFAIRS

A number of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club ladies, during the week, will entertain at smaller private affairs for the visitors. Mrs. A. E. Hodgins, tomorrow afternoon, will hold a reception at her home, 1471 Fairfield Road, in honor of the out-of-town players who are arriving by the afternoon boat, and has extended invitations to several of the local club members. Two or three small private luncheons are already planned. While the Vancouver and other Mainland entry list is not yet complete, the following visiting players from points south of the line and Up-Island are already registered:

The ladies' contingent: Cracyn Wheeler (Portland), Theodosia Smith (Chicago), Dorothea Schwartz (Portland), Edith Tough (Los Angeles), Genevieve Grant (San Francisco), Mrs. Mildred Sturgin Laird and Helen Sovenki McBride (Portland).

Among the visiting men players will be: Henry Prusoff (Seattle), Cyril Robbs (South Africa), Mel Dranga (Seattle), Robert Johnston (Portland), and from San Francisco, Donald Budge, James Kinney, John Murlo, Robert Laird and H. Goldman, Donald Lewis (Portland), Ray Casey and Eric Leney (Duncan).

Mrs. A. E. Hodgins will, as usual, have charge of the tea arrangements at the club throughout the week.

Victoria Ladies Attend Nanaimo Entertainment

Willis, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mrs. D. B. McConnan, Mrs. James Adams and Miss McGregor, all of whom returned to the city late the same afternoon, after stopping at Duncan for dinner.

At the garden party at Nanaimo, the Victoria and other guests were welcomed by Mrs. Leighton and Mrs. G. B. Brown, president of the Nanaimo Club. A programme of vocal and instrumental music and dances by pupils of Miss Shepherd was given during the afternoon, and there was a clock golf competition, won by Mrs. Carmichael, of Victoria.

Royalty Accepts Dancer

LADY CAVENDISH FORMER ADELE ASTAIRE

LORD CHARLES CAVENDISH

LORD and LADY CAVENDISH AFTER WEDDING CEREMONY

WITH her presentation to King George and Queen Mary at the recent court at Buckingham Palace, the former Adele Astaire, now Lady Charles Cavendish, has been accepted in British society circles in "good standing" and her marriage to the son of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire has received the seal of royal approval. Thus are all doubts as to the social status of the charming dancer, who carried off and married one of Britain's most eligible young men under the noses of an army of hopeful debs, laid to rest. The Duke of Devonshire is a former Governor-General of Canada.

St. Paul's Sunday School Picnic Is Enjoyable Outing

The largest and most successful picnic ever staged by the St. Paul's Presbyterian Sunday School was held at Oak Bay Park on the Willows Beach, when more than 140 adults and children attended and enjoyed an excellent programme of sports and games.

The afternoon was takep up with a lengthy and well arranged list of races, which included many novelty events and flat races for young and old.

Supper was served in the pavilion under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Humphries and Mrs. A. Stewart, after which old-fashioned games and softball were played.

The picnic was supervised by Thomas Humphries, superintendent of the Sunday school, while the sports were arranged by the committee, composed of Fred Arnot, Duncan Stewart and Miss Jean McGowan.

Circle Lake lies at an altitude of more than 4,000 feet and is fed the year round by melting snows and ice of the Hanging Glaciers.

Major F. V. Longstaff, F.R.G.S., will spend the latter part of July gathering information and data for mapping the area for the Royal Geographical Society. # Churches and Their World-Wide Work

Workingmen Favored Primitive Methodism

Early Union With Sister Denomination Leads Conference Vice-President to Indicate Influence of Religious Body on Social and Industrial Life

"Not a death but a birth" was the import of the early union of the Primitive Methodist Church in England with the United Methodist and the mother Wesleyan Church, according to an official statement made at the closing conference held recently in Middlesborough, where, as it happened, the coming amalgamation was initiated eighteen years ago.

Primitive Methodism broke away from the mother Wesleyan Church in 1810. It began in a protest against the staid Wesleyanism of that day made by two unlettered men, Bourne and Clowes, men who left the timber yard and the pedlar's bench to found a society in which workingmen could find a spiritual home. They and others wanted to reach the people through open-air meetings and camp meetings, as John Wesley had done, but the church authorities turned down the very project for which the founder of Methodism had been exiled from the Church of England less than a century before.

The church thus formed has given England 122 years of a vigorous life that has profoundly affected social and industrial conditions. Its mission has been to the working classes, "among the miners of the North," to quote The Christian World, "the weavers of Lancashire and Yorkshire, the iron workers of Staffordshire and Cleveland, and the agricultural laborers of East Anglia and the Welsh Marches." It pioneered the movements for total abstinence and popular education, and gave trade unionism its first leaders. It fought for the emancipation of the agricultural laborers, and Joseph Arch found his best co-workers among his local fellow-preachers.

MANY LAY PREACHERS

Primitive Methodism will bring into the coming united church some 200,000 members, 380,000 Sunday school scholars and 52,500 teachers. It has 7,400 chapels and schools. Associated as lay helpers of its 950 ministers is the very large company of 13,000 lay preachers, who have passed through the training of the Local Preachers' Council. It is by means of these laymen, working under ministerial direction, that a widely extended field is covered. The high standard of its ministry is largely due to the lifelong efforts of the late Dr. A. S. Peake, whose scholarship, combined with gifts of popular exposition of the modern knowledge and magnetic leadership, has produced a progressive ministry and responsive laity.

In his vice-presidential address, Victor Murray stated that this body would carry into United Methodism its evangelical passion, democratic sympathies, and garnered experience in religious work. "We drop," he said, "the name 'Primitive.' May our influence in the United Church lead also to the dropping of the name 'Methodism,' and the single name 'Christian' be sufficient to designate all our Lord's true followers."

Recovered On Taking Communion

The news of the death of Rev. Francis J. Dymond, of the United Methodist Mission in China, recalls a remarkable communion service, states The Christian World, held by Dymond and his friend, Rev. Samuel Pollard, many years ago in West China. The story is that one day Dymond was stricken with an illness which Pollard, studying the symptoms as described in a medical textbook, was dismayed to find was smallpox. There was no doctor within two months' journey. Pollard nursed his friend night and day, but the disease seemed to be gaining ground.

During an interval in his delirium, Dymond proposed that they should take the Sacrament together before the end came. Pollard, with a heavy heart, made the necessary preparations—a couple of Chinese cups, a small pot of tea, and a Chinese biscuit. When he had sung and prayed, he broke down completely in his attempt to say a few words about the Saviour's love. The sick man then suddenly took the service out of his hands and gave the address. From that moment Dymond began to recover. He has spent more than forty years since then in devoted and fruitful service.

GREECE ADMITS BIBLE FREELY

The authorities in Greece, both civil and ecclesiastical, are favorable to the circulation of the Bible in that land. The Archbishop of the Greek Orthodox Church in Salonika has allowed his seal to be placed on all the books, both in English and in modern Greek, while the chief commander of the army has supplied the colporteurs of the National Bible Society of Scotland with an official permit to sell Bibles at the military barracks, where no other books are allowed to be sold. The Bible is considered to be an antidote to Bolshevism.

WILL MEET IN HOME CHURCH

Returning to their own church after an absence of several weeks during a united campaign with Dr. Shirre, members and friends of the Foursquare Gospel Church are anticipating a time of great blessing at the two services this Sunday. The meetings at the Foursquare Church are always bright and cheerful.

Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Guy P. Duffield, has chosen a unique subject: "When God Rolls Up His Sleeves."

At the evening evangelistic gathering the subject will be "Faith vs. Reason," in which Mr. Duffield will seek to minimize the seeming conflict between these two factors in life.

During the week three interesting services will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, at 8 o'clock.

Sacrament to Be Subject at First Church, Scientist

The subject of the lesson-sermon in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Victoria, on Sunday will be "Sacrament." The lesson-sermon will also include the following passage from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christianity is the basis of true healing. Whatever holds human thought in line with unselfed love, receives directly the divine power" (page 192).

Churches or mission houses have been built at seven points and a residential school has been opened at Shingle Point and is running successfully with a principal and staff of four missionaries, with thirty-four resident pupils and nine day pupils in attendance.

An addition has been made to the hospital at Aklavik, which now accommodates sixteen patients and a staff of two nurses and a house matron. A hospital at Pangirtling has been erected and staffed.

Rapidly Expanding Religion in Japan Founded by Woman

LITTLE known on this side of the Pacific, the Japanese religion called Tenrikyo, has 6,000 adherents and is described by a Christian observer as "a living, growing, prosperous religion, which seems to satisfy its adherents." Its founder was Nakayama Miki San, an uneducated but able woman who received her illumination in her forty-first year. In a review of this remarkable movement which will appear in tomorrow's issue, she is termed the "Mary Baker Eddy of the Orient."

Church Personals

Eric Liddell, the winner of the 440-metre race at the Paris Olympics, and who returned a year ago from his post as teacher in a mission school in China, for a year's furlough and study, was recently ordained for ministerial work in that country as a missionary of the London Missionary Society.

Dr. T. R. Glover, who lectured in Memorial Hall here two years ago and is famous as the university orator at Cambridge and as author of books on the New Testament, is supplying the pulpit of the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church, Toronto (Dr. Trevor Davies) during this month and August.

The three hundredth anniversary of the birth of Sir Christopher Wren will be celebrated on October 20 by a special service at St. Paul's Cathedral, of which he was the well-known architect.

At the consecration of St. Paul's Cathedral on St. John the Baptist Day, of the Bishop in Jerusalem and the Bishop of Kensington, the the Old Catholic Bishop of Haarlem (the Most Rev. Henricus Th. J. van Vlijmen) was expected not only to be present, but also to take part in the laying-on of hands. While Anglican bishops have taken part in the consecration of Swedish bishops, according to The Church of England Newspaper, this will be the first occasion in history when a bishop of another branch of the Catholic church shares in the consecration of bishops of the Anglican communion.

Last year 1,643 boys and girls and babies were admitted to the benefits of the Dr. Barnardo's Homes, the total number in residence at the end of the year being 8,427. In all 111,501 children had been cared for during the long and beneficent operations of this institution.

It is estimated that two million men took the sacrament in Ireland on the Sunday before the opening of the Eucharistic Congress.

Four Presbyterian churches in Scotland have been discussing union—Free Church ("Wee Frees), the Original Secession Church, the Reformed Presbyterian and the Free Presbyterian. A fair measure of agreement has been reached between the first and an early union is not unlikely. The Free Church is the body that declined to enter the union of the United Presbyterian and the Free Church in 1900.

Mr. Campbell is the official head of the 145 organized Adventist churches with their 7,000 adherents in Canada. In the course of his work he will probably visit this city at a not too distant date.

Switzer, of Centennial Church, will be the guest preacher at the evening service. Mr. Switzer will discuss the question "Will Christianity Survive?" # GRASS FIRES ARE MENACE

Department Responds to Twelve Blazes of Threatening Proportions

The grass fire menace in Victoria reached a climax yesterday when the total for the week was brought to twelve by two more blazes of threatening proportions. Yesterday's fires were on Tyee Road and Upper Terrace, and line crews were out for nearly two hours battling the flames.

A grass fire on the industrial reserve was fought for four hours by headquarters' crew Thursday afternoon, while on Wednesday another serious blaze on Newport Avenue kept the department busy for four hours and ten minutes.

HAZARD INCREASES

"The fire hazard is becoming too great," Fire Chief Vernon Stewart declared. "The public must learn to be more careful with cigarettes and matches. Such fires endanger homes and industries."

On the Industrial Reserve are a number of oil storage tanks and industries with highly combustible material, and Thursday's fire was a real menace to these plants, it was stated.

LIST OF FIRES

So far this week firemen have fought grass fires for a total of seventeen hours in following places: Wilson and Esquimalt Roads, two hours; Estevan Avenue, one hour; Industrial Reserve, four hours; Haultain and Belmont Street, fifteen minutes; Protestant Orphanage, one and a half hours; Belmont and Haultain Street, twenty minutes; Rose Street and Topaz Avenue, one and a half hours; Herald Street, fifteen minutes; Cormorant Street, fifteen minutes; Tyee Road, half-hour; Upper Terrace, one hour, and Newport Avenue, four hours and ten minutes. This last fire required two crews to fight and for a time threatened nearby homes.

Payroll Robbers Will Be Flogged

EDMONTON, July 8.—Jerry Siorin, twenty-six, was sentenced to five years in the Prince Albert penitentiary, and ten strokes of the lash, and Bernard Idleman, twenty-four, was sentenced to three years, with five lashes, by Magistrate George B. McLeod in city police court, Thursday morning. Both were recommended for deportation at conclusion of their sentences. They were charged with the Misericordia Hospital robbery on May 31 last, and pleaded guilty after electing for summary trial.

INFANT SMOTHERED UNDER BEDCLOTHES

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Believed to have smothered under bedclothes, Jean Buchan, eight-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Buchan, East Twenty-Seventh, was found dead in bed yesterday.

The discovery was made by the mother of the child, who became alarmed when she was unable to awaken her. The inhalator crew of No. 1 Fire Hall was summoned, but the infant was dead.

CHAPTER VIII

"You have come from Mr. Kirkwood, the lawyer, at Exhampton?"

"Not exactly, Mrs. Gardner," Inspector Narracott replied. "I put it that way to your maid. Your brother, Captain Trevelyan, was murdered yesterday afternoon and I am Divisional Inspector Narracott in charge of the case.

Whatever else Mrs. Gardner might be she was certainly a woman of iron nerve. Her eyes narrowed and she drew in her breath sharply, then motioned the inspector to a chair and sitting down herself, she said:

"Murdered! How extraordinary! Who in the world would want to murder Joe?"

"That is what I'm anxious to find out, Mrs. Gardner."

"Of course, I hope I shall be able to help you in some way, but I doubt it. My brother and I have seen very little of each other in the last ten years. I know nothing of his friends or of any ties he has formed."

"You'll excuse me, Mrs. Gardner, but had you and your brother quarreled?"

"No—not quarreled. I think estranged would be a better word to describe the position between us. I don't want to go into family details, but my brother rather resented my marriage. Brothers, I think, seldom approve of their sister's choice, but usually, I fancy, they conceal it better than my brother did. My brother, perhaps you know, had a large fortune left to him by an aunt. Both my sister and myself married poor men. When my husband was invalided out of the army after the war with shell shock, a little financial assistance would have been a wonderful relief—would have enabled me to give him an expensive course of treatment which was otherwise denied to him. I asked my brother for a loan which he refused. That, of course, he was perfectly entitled to do. But since then we have met at very rare intervals, and hardly corresponded at all."

It was a clear succinct statement.

An intriguing personality, the inspector thought. Somehow, he couldn't quite make her out. She seemed unnaturally calm, unnaturally ready with her recital of facts. He also noticed that, with all her surprise she asked for no details of her brother's death. That struck him as extraordinary.

"I don't know if you want to hear exactly what occurred—a' Exhampton?" he began.

She frowned.

"Must I hear it? My brother was killed, painlessly—I hope."

"Quite painlessly, I should say."

"Then please spare me any revolting details."

"Unnatural," thought the inspector, "decidedly unnatural."

As though she had read his mind she used the very word that he had spoken to himself.

"I suppose you think that very unnatural, inspector, but—I have heard a good many horrors. My husband has told me things when he has had one of his bad turns—" she shivered. "I think you would understand if you knew my circumstances better."

"Oh! quite so, quite so, Mrs. Gardner. What I really came for was to get a few family details from you. Do you know how many relatives living your brother has besides yourself?"

"Of near relations, only the Pearsons. My sister Mary's children."

"And they are?"

"James, Sylvia and Brian."

"James?"

"He is the eldest. He works in an insurance office."

"What age is he?"

"Twenty-eight."

"Is he married?"

"No, but he is engaged—to a very nice girl, I believe. I've not yet met her."

"And his address?"

"21 Cromwell Street, S.W.3."

The Inspector noted it down.

"Yes, Mrs. Gardner."

"Then there's Sylvia. She's married to Martin Dering—you may have read his books. He's a moderately successful author."

"Thank you, and their address?"

"The Nook, Surrey Road, Wimbledon."

"Yes."

"And the youngest is Brian—but he is out in Australia. I don't know his address, but either his brother or sister would know."

"Thank you, Mrs. Gardner. Just as a matter of form, do you mind my asking you how you spent yesterday afternoon?"

She looked surprised.

"Let me see. I did some shopping—yes—then I went to the pictures. I came home about six and lay down on my bed until dinner, as the pictures had given me rather a headache. Is there anything else?"

"No, I don't think I have anything further to ask you. I will now get into communication with your nephew and niece. I don't know if Mr. Kirkwood has informed you of the fact yet, but you and the three young Peasons are the joint inheritors of Captain Trevelyan's money."

The color came into her face in a slow, rich blush.

"That will be wonderful," she said quietly. "It has been so difficult—so terribly difficult—always skimping and saving and wishing."

She started up as a man's rather querulous voice came floating down the stairs.

"Jennifer, Jennifer, I want you."

"Excuse me," she said.

As she opened the door the call came again, louder and more imperiously.

"Jennifer, where are you? I want you, Jennifer."

The inspector had followed her to the door. He stood in the hall as she ran up the stairs.

"I am coming dear," she called.

A hospital nurse who was coming down the stairs stood aside to let her pass up.

"Please go to Mr. Gardner, he is getting very excited. You always manage to calm him."

Inspector Narracott stood deliberately in the nurse's way.

"May I speak to you for a moment?" he said. "My conversation with Mrs. Gardner was interrupted."

"The news of the murder," has upset my patient," she explained, adjusting a well-starched cuff. "That foolish girl, Beatrice, came running up and blurted it all out."

"Is Mr. Gardner dangerously ill?" inquired the inspector.

"It's a sad case," said the nurse. "Of course, in a manner of speaking, there's nothing the matter with him really. He's lost the use of his limbs entirely through nervous shock. There's no visible disability."

"He had no extra strain or shock yesterday afternoon?" inquired the inspector.

"Not that I heard of," the nurse looked somewhat surprised.

"You were with him all the afternoon?"

"I had intended to be, but, well—as a matter of fact, Captain Gardner was very anxious for me to change two books for him at the library. He had forgotten to ask his wife before she went out. So, I went out with them, and he asked me at the same time to get one or two other little things for him—presents for his wife as a matter of fact. Very nice about it, he was, and told me I was to have tea at his expense at Boots. I didn't get out until past four, and didn't get back until after six, but the poor fellow had been quite comfortable. In fact, he told me he had been asleep most of the time."

"Mrs. Gardner was back by then?"

"Yes, I believe she was lying down."

"She's very devoted to her husband, isn't she?"

"She worships him. I really do believe that woman would do anything in the world for him. Quite touching, and very different from some of the cases I have attended. Why, only last month—"

But Inspector Narracott fended off the impending scandal of last month with considerable skill. He glanced at his watch and gave a loud exclamation.

"Goodness gracious," he cried, "I shall miss my train. I must run. Tell Mrs. Gardner I am sorry not to have seen her to say good-bye. Very pleased to have had this little chat with you, nurse."

The nurse bridled ever so slightly.

"Rather a good-looking man," she said to herself as the front door shut after the inspector. "Really quite good-looking. Such a nice sympathetic manner."

Inspector Narracott's next move was a report to his superior, Superintendent Maxwell.

The latter listened with interest.

"It's going to be a big case," he said thoughtfully. "There'll be headlines in the papers. We've got to be careful. We don't want to make any mistake. But I think you're on the right tack. You must get after this James Pearson as soon as possible—find out where he was yesterday afternoon. Of course, his signing his own name openly like that shows there wasn't any premeditation about it. He'd hardly have been such a fool otherwise. It looks to me like a quarrel and a sudden blow. If it is the man, he must have heard of his uncle's death that night. And if so, why did he sneak off by the six train in the morning without a word to anyone? No, it looks bad. Always granting that the whole thing's not a coincidence. You must clear that up as quickly as possible."

"That's what I thought, sir. I'd better take the 1:45 to town. Some time or other I want to have a word with this Willett woman who rented the captain's house. There's something fishy there. But I can't get to Sittaford at present, the roads are impassable with snow. And anyway, she can't have any direct connection with the crime. She and her daughter were actually—well—table turning at the time the crime was committed. And, by the way, rather a queer thing happened—"

The inspector narrated the story he had heard from Major Burnaby.

"That's a rum go," ejaculated the superintendent. "Think this old fellow was telling the truth? That's the sort of story that gets cooked up afterwards by those believers in spooks and things of that kind."

"I fancy it's true all right," said Narracott with a grin. "I had a lot of difficulty getting it out of him. He's not a believer—just the opposite—old soldier, all silly nonsense attitude."

The superintendent nodded his comprehension. "Well, it's odd, but it doesn't get us anywhere," was the conclusion.

"Then I'll take the 1:45 to London."

The other nodded.

On arrival in town Narracott went straight to 21 Cromwell Street. Mr. Pearson, he was told, was at the office. He would be back for certain about seven o'clock.

Narracott nodded carelessly as though the information were of no value to him.

"I'll call back if I can," he said. "It's nothing of importance," and departed quickly without leaving a name.

MOTORISTS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Robert McIntosh, of Royal Oak, and Anthony Anderson, of Glanford Avenue, escaped serious injuries when their cars came into collision at the intersection of Glanford Avenue and North Quadra Street, at the foot of Rithet's Hill.

Mr. McIntosh was driving south on North Quadra Street when the truck driven by Mr. Anderson entered the highway and the collision resulted. Mr. McIntosh's car left the highway and lodged in a ditch. Both machines were badly damaged, but the drivers escaped unscathed.

Athletics Displace the Tigers in American League Pennant Race

Mackmen Take Twin Bill From White Sox to Make Second Position—Yanks Down Detroit—Pirates, Cubs and Braves Victorious

AMERICAN LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—Winning both ends of today's doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, the Athletics leaped into second place over the Detroit Tigers, six and a half games behind the Yanks. The scores of the Mack triumphs were 6 to 4 and 11 to 2.

Two runs scored in the sixth inning to break a 3-to-3 tie, gave the Athletics the first contest. The Mackmen clinched the second game early, scoring four runs that finished Gaston in the first inning, and coming back with five more in the second.

Jimmy Foxx hit his thirtieth home run of the season in the first game, and Simmons cracked his seventeenth with two on base in the second contest. Roger Cramer hit in both games to run his record of hitting in consecutive games to twenty-two in a row.

| First game: | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Chicago | 4 | 10 | 1 |

Combs Wins Game

NEW YORK, July 8.—Professor Earl Combs terminated the Yankees' losing streak suddenly and effectively today when he knocked one of Vic Sorrell's offerings into the distant bleachers with two mates aboard, the big punch being sufficient to give the leaders a 3-to-2 decision over Detroit.

Sorrell held them to two scattered hits the rest of the way and yielded only seven in all, but he could not match Charley Ruffing.

The Yankee righthander pitched brilliant ball all the way, striking out ten Tigers and allowing only three hits until the ninth frame, when he granted three more. Jonathan Stone struck out four times.

The defeat sent the Tigers into third place, below the Athletics, who were taking a double-header from the Chicago White Sox.

Browns Beat Red Sox

BOSTON, July 8.—A six-run drive by the St. Louis Browns in the second inning was a big factor in their win over the Red Sox, 8 to 4, today.

Ed Gallagher, former Boston College star, started for the Sox and five of the six runs in the second were charged to him. He received poor support from his teammates, however.

Stewart yielded nine hits to the Sox, but the early lead was sufficient to give him an easy win.

|---|---|---|---|
| St. Louis | 8 | 10 | 2 |
| Boston | 4 | 9 | 1 |

Batteries: Stewart and Bengough; Gallagher, Michaels, Moore and Connolly.

Ferrell Comes Through

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Wesley Ferrell was hit hard today, but he outclassed two Washington pitchers as Cleveland took its third straight from the Nationals, 6 to 5.

Vosmik drove in the winning run in the eighth with a single after Averill purposely had been passed, filling the bases.

| Washington | 5 | 13 | 2 |

Batteries: Ferrell and Myatt; Coffman, Burke and Spencer.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, July 8.—Bob Smith, making his first start in five weeks today, was hit safely in every inning, but the Cubs, with the aid of five Philadelphia errors, took the final game of the series, 6 to 4.

Smith was found for eleven hits, but was tight in the pinches, while five errors, all of which were made in the third inning, helped the Cubs to three runs, enough to win.

Giants Nosed Out

PITTSBURGH, July 8.—The New York Giants came from behind a 7-0 deficit to tie the Pirates in the ninth inning today, but their work was wasted when the league leaders put across a run in the last of the ninth to win, 8 to 7. The victory gave the Pirates four out of five for the series.

Floyd Vaughan's single off Relief Pitcher Mooney, with the bases filled and none out, sent Pie Traynor in with the deciding score. The Pirates jumped on Carl Hubbell for their big lead early in the game, Dick Grace leading the assault on the southpaw with a home run and a single.

| New York | 7 | 15 | 2 |

Batteries: Hubbell, Schumacher, Bell, Mooney and Hogan; Kremer, Chagnon and Grace.

Dodgers Hit Hard

CINCINNATI, O., July 8.—Scoring seven runs in the first inning and continuing their assault on four Red pitchers, the Brooklyn Dodgers rolled up a 15-to-5 victory to make it two out of three for the series.

Bill Clark went the route for the winners and the Reds scored all their runs off him in the second inning, four of them unearned. Five of the Reds' nine hits were crowded into the big innings. Manager Dan Howley and Pitcher Red Lucas were chased from the park by Umpire Barr.

| | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Brooklyn | 15 | 16 | 2 |
| Cincinnati | 5 | 9 | 5 |

Batteries: Clark and Lopez; Johnson, Hilcher, Goden, Rixey and Lombardi.

Braves Trim Cards

ST. LOUIS, July 8.—Bob Brown, whose pitching has been a big help in keeping Boston in the upper division of the National League, allowed St. Louis only four hits today and was all set for a shutout when Wilson singled late in the ninth to drive in the only run for the Cards in a 6-to-1 contest.

Dizzy Dean, although recorded as the losing pitcher, did the best work of the day for the Cardinals. He pitched for seven innings and allowed only four hits. And during this time he contributed the only hit the Cards were able to get off Brown. Dizzy gave way to Derringer, who was touched for four hits in his first innings of the mound. However, he completed the game, allowing two more safeties.

Art Shires, who had done effective work in the earlier two games of the series, drove in three, or half of the runs made by the Braves today. His homer yesterday gave Boston the winning run, and in the series opener he contributed a four-base hit.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT . . . . . By Ripley

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

The Building Moved by Eighteen Men—On October 14, 1930, officials of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company and about 300 onlookers witnessed the start in the moving and turning of a 22,000,000-pound eight-story building in Indianapolis—a most unusual procedure for a structure of that size. It was moved a distance of fifty-two feet in one direction, and then given a ninety-degree turn so it faced another street. And all this was accomplished without interrupting the phone, elevator, heat, water, or electric services, and the actual moving was done by only eighteen men. These men operated the huge ratchet screw jacks working against the I-beams, rolling the building over a specially constructed platform of steel rails.

The building was permanently situated in its new location in about six weeks.

Defeated and Elected at the Same Time—When Jack Lawlor ran for election as a member of the Board of Freeholders of San Francisco, in 1930, the returns in the office of the Registrar of Voters showed that on the unofficial count he was defeated, the vote being 30,308, but the official count elected him by a vote of 30,260—48 less than the count on which he was tentatively defeated.

Major Richardson Makes Possible in Donegal Qualifier

Victoria Marksman Registers Perfect Score in Service Rifle Match—Parnell Leads Canadians in Conan Doyle Event

BISLEY CAMP, Eng., July 8 (CP).—Canada flashed into the winning column as intensive competition opened today in the great Empire meeting of the National Rifle Association.

Major F. Richardson, of Victoria, scored highest possible, 50, shooting in the Donegal service rifle match, and in the shoot-off with several other crack marksmen who had perfect figures, won the "qualifier." Not holding one of the N.R.A.'s Donegal bronze badges, he was not eligible to shoot for the Donegal Challenge Cup itself. The "qualifier" netted him a small money prize.

Lieut. G. E. Matchett, of Hamilton, placed third in the "qualifier" with a good 49. The match was at 200 yards and was shot under fine weather conditions.

The Conan Doyle Challenge Statuette service rifle match, second feature of the day, was fired at 200 and 500 yards, and the veteran Segreant Alexander Parneil, of Verdun, Que., led the Canadian Bisley team with a total of 67 out of a possible 70. The result of the match, in which hundreds of marksmen from all over the British Isles and far distant parts of the Empire competed, will be announced tomorrow.

SCOTLAND WINS SHIELD

A team representing Scotland carried off the Elcho Challenge Shield for the third successive year, the match being open only to England, Ireland and Scotland, fired at 900, 1,000 and 1,100 yards.

Yorkshire won the Astor County Championship Challenge Cup, at 200 and 500 yards, and the Army team captured the United Services Challenge Cup, fired under service conditions—deliberate fire, fire with movement, rapid fire and snap-shooting.

The sixty-ninth annual meeting of the National Rifle Association opened last Monday, but the Conan Doyle and Donegal challenge shoots today were the first of the big competitions. Marksmen will be busy now until the final stage of the great King's Prize is fired on the final day, July 16.

The Canadian scoring in the Conan Doyle match was as follows:

| | Yards 200 | 500 | Tl. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Sgt. Parnell, Verdun, Que. | 33 | 34 | —67 |
| Cpl. Herring, Ottawa | 32 | 33 | —66 |

| Capt. Hesiden, Sherbrooke | 29 | 32 | —61 |

After Richardson and Matchett in the Donegal shoot, among the Canadians, came Lieut. Burke, also with a 49, not so well placed as Matchett's; Kerr, Molecey and Sweet with 48; Dow, Downey and Herring with 47; Burton, Evans, Jensen, Parnell and Sgt. F. V. Shepherd with 46; C.S.M. H. Rusk, of Ottawa, 45; Lieut. Pucas, of Toronto, 44, and Houiden, 43.

SWIM STARS COMING HERE

Quebec and Edmonton Entries Chosen for Trials in City and Vancouver

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP).—Close on the heels of the Quebec entries comes a list of the Edmonton swimmers who will compete for places on the Canadian Olympic team at the Kitsilano pool on July 16 and at the Crystal Garden, Victoria, on July 18. Elizabeth Towbridge, Phyllis Harris and Donald Thom are contenders for the diving, while Mary McConkey and Claude Adams will splash after free-style honors.

Of this quintette, Mary McConkey is probably the most outstanding performer, with marks of 29 secs. in the fifty-yard free-style sprint and 1 min. 7 secs. for the 100. Both of these marks better the existing Dominion records. Arvilla Gilding, of the Toronto Dolphinets, is credited with the fastest time in the fifty for a Canadian swimmer with a mark of 29 3-5 secs., while Irene Picie, of the same club, is the official recordholder of the 100-yard free style in 1 min. 8 secs.

WINNIPEG, July 8.—Bobby Hammerton, flashy mile swimmer, will represent Manitoba in the Canadian Olympic swimming trials at Vancouver and Victoria, July 16 and 18. Decision to send Hammerton to the Coast was reached last night after trial swimming events here in which Hammerton did the mile in 23 mins. 41 2-5 secs., only five seconds behind the existing Canadian record. He also showed good form in other events.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Twenty-five members of the Hungarian Olympic team arrived in New York yesterday and were given an official welcome at the City Hall by Mayor Walker. The team included seventeen swimmers, the world's championship water polo team, and five entrants in the modern Penthalon.

Detroit Pro Has Two-Stroke Lead At Half-Way Mark

Watrous Has Score of 142 for First Thirty-six Holes—Harry Cooper Next With 144—Walter Hagen in Third Place—Rest of Field Bunched

OTTAWA HUNT CLUB, July 8 (CP).—Al Watrous showed them the way today in the Canadian Open. Ten years after he last won the title, the brilliant golf technician from Detroit was making a sensational bid for the crown tonight as he led the field at the halfway mark in the national golf championship with a thirty-six-hole score of 142.

Crowding on his heels, fighting for every stroke, were a score or more of the continent's best. Leader, with his course record equaling 69 on the first eighteen Thursday, Harry Cooper, of Chicago, dropped back a pace today, taking a 75 for the wind-swept Hunt Club layout.

He was in second place with 144, two strokes behind Watrous, but his hold on this position was made none too secure by the 145 compiled by Walter Hagen, debonair defending champion, and scores of eleven others within six strokes of the Detroiter, who registers from the Oakland Hills Golf Club of Birmingham, Mich.

LEO DIEGEL WELL UP

At 146, only four strokes behind leader Watrous, were Olin Dutra, Mac Smith, Tom Kerrigan and Leo Diegel, four times champion, all capable of blasting Watrous from his precarious perch during the thirty-six-hole session tomorrow.

Grouped a stroke behind this quartette were Mortie Dutra, Ed Dudley, Wiffy Cox, Horton Smith, and Andy Kay, the Toronto pro; George Von Elm, Chicago "businessman golfer," and Wally Smithers, smart young Royal Ottawa assistant, who had 148's, and Jim Johnston, Toronto, and Phil Perkins, former British amateur titlists, 149.

These were the leaders, the "big shots" from among whom a champion was expected to emerge. But trailing them and still within striking distance of the title was a block of others. These included many stars of the game—Bobby Cruickshank, 150; Johnny Farrell, 150; Joe Kirkwood, 151; Jose Jurado, 152; Tony Manero, 153, and Billy Burke, 153.

In all, seventy-seven will go to the post tomorrow in the last half of the seventy-two-hole tournament. All those within twenty strokes of the leader—the 162's and better—were allowed in the charmed circle, under the rules of the competition. None of the aces of North American golf failed to qualify. Those who were dropped out were mostly amateurs and some Canadian pros.

GALLERY WITH HAGEN

Watrous richly deserved his position. His 70 was the best score of the day. Most of the crowd of 5,000 people who braved rain and wind to watch the golfing greats do their stuff followed Hagen as they always do, but Watrous was making the score of the day. Steady, methodical, he was the only one of the field who was satisfied with his putting. The greens today baffled the aces. Predictions were freely made before the tournament opened that a 67 would be made, but opinions were revised today as the stars attempted to master the wide, rolling carpets of the Hunt Club layout. Only one man, Cooper, had equaled the course record of 69. He made it Thursday and the experts are betting now that no one else will break 70 over the tricky layout.

Scores follow:

Phil Perkins, New York, 75-74—149.
Tom Kerrigan, Mount Vernon, N.Y., 72-74—146.
Jose Massiotti, White Plains, N.Y., 78-75—153.

Henry Prusoff Will Clash With Dranga For Western Title

Seattle Stars Win Way to Final in Mainland Tennis Meet—Gracyn Wheeler and Dorothea Swartz Reach Women's Final—Budge Gives Thrills

VANCOUVER, July 8 (CP).—Although beaten in both his semi-final matches, diminutive Don Budge again furnished the gallery at the Western Canadian tennis championships with by far the greatest entertainment today at the Vancouver Lawn Tennis Club. The Oakland youngster carried brawny Hank Prusoff, of Seattle, to five sets, surprising most of the onlookers, including the tournament favorite from the Puget Sound. The scores were 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2, with Budge playing a calm and collected game all the way and letting the hard-hitting Prusoff make the errors. The chop stroke of the Seattle man worked to perfection, particularly in the last set, and he always seemed to have something in reserve. Mel Dranga, of Seattle, will oppose Prusoff in the final, having hurdled British Columbia's first ranking threat, T. O. Ryall, in straight sets.

Dranga played his usual crisp and clean-hitting game, allowing Ryall to force the play and make the errors. Dranga broke through Ryall's service to lead 4-2 in the first set, but the Vancouver man fought back to tie it up and lead 5-4 on his own delivery. Ryall also led 6-5 on his own service, but both times failed to come closer than within two points of set. Dranga took the set 9-7 and captured the second one 6-4 after Ryall had led 4-2. In the third Ryall dropped the first three games, pulled up a couple and then went to pieces altogether. Although Ryall made many sensational shots with his backhand it was Dranga's ability to force him into error by pounding deep on the portside, which upset the Vancouver man.

MISS WHEELER WINS

The women's singles semi-finals proved one-sided, with Mrs. Mary Haggart putting up a game but losing fight against Gracyn Wheeler, of California, and Marjorie Greig bowing to Dorothea Swartz in like manner. Miss Swartz won 6-1, 6-3, and Miss Wheeler, 6-3, 6-2.

Favorites also came through in the men's doubles, although Budge and Cyril Robbe, the latter from Portland, gave Ray Casey and slim young Henry Rosenberg all they could handle. The scores were 7-5, 5-7, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Robbs and Budge weakening towards the close after putting up a stonewall defence at the net through most of the match. Casey and Rosenberg meet Prusoff and Bob Johnson, Seattle-Portland combination, who were given a surprisingly hard fight by George Sparling and Jack Muir, the last of the locals.

Prusoff and Johnson won the first two sets 6-2, 6-0, and it looked as though it would be a walkaway. In the third set Sparling and Muir, particularly the former, tightened up and returning their rivals' hardest drives and smartest volleys with speed and decisiveness, won the set 6-3. In the final set the home team combination was smothered in the early games but came up fighting to turn a 2-5 deficit into a 6-5 lead. Johnson then won his service after a long deuce game, in which the Vancouverites had two set points. The next game also went to Prusoff and Johnson after a hard fight, and Prusoff won his service at love to settle the issue, 8-6.

MIXED DOUBLES CLOSE

The mixed doubles also were featured by a great fight on the part of a home team, Muriel Munro and Dunc Williams taking the first set from Gracyn Wheeler and Lon Lewis, 9-7. The second set saw a nip-and-tuck struggle, which the visitors took 6-4. After winning the first game in the final set, Miss Munro and Williams fell into error, and the visitors ran out the affair, 6-1. They will meet Miss Swartz and Casey, who proved far too strong for Carolyn Gringess and Henry Rosenberg, Tacoma pair.

The feature of the women's doubles was the splendid battle put up by the North Vancouver youngsters, Caroline Deacon and Eleanor Young against Mrs. Haggart and Vess O'Shea, which the latter won.

They meet the Misses Swartz and Wheeler, who had little trouble in defeating Murial Munro and Mrs. Lorne Ross.

Don Budge played masterful tennis to take the junior final from Colin Milne in straight sets.

SONS OF CANADA TIE UP SENIOR BASEBALL RACE

Bradman Scores 200 Not Out, as Aussies Defeat Montrealers

Famous Batsman Gives Great Display as Antipodeans Down All-Montreal Fifteen in Decisive Fashion—Fleetwood-Smith Deadly

MONTREAL, July 8 (CP).—Don Bradman, of Australia, today showed Montreal cricket enthusiasts why he is regarded as one of the best batsmen the ancient game has produced.

Treating with nonchalance some of the best bowling local cricket can produce, Bradman scored a beautiful 200, not out, in the second of a series of three one-day matches between the touring Australians and an all-Montreal team. The visitors won as they pleased, putting a fifteen-man team out for 77 runs and then scoring 331 runs for the loss of three wickets before darkness called a halt. The concluding match of their Montreal tour takes place tomorrow at McGill University Stadium, the place of the first two matches.

A steady procession of Montreal players to and from the wicket occupied the first part of the match. They could do little with the bowling of S. J. McCabe, A. A. Malley and Fleetwood-Smith, who did all Australia's bowling. Only four local men scored double figures, H. A. Lartigue, 19; H. Proctor, 19; L. G. Spooner, 10, and H. S. C. Leach, 11. Four players secured duck's eggs, while a number of others scored less than five runs each.

McCabe and Fleetwood-Smith opened for Australia, their partnership being broken when 22 runs were up. Bradman then joined McCabe and immediately began a forceful batting exhibition. He had three sixes and numerous fours in his score.

SENATOR TAYLOR DONATES TROPHY FOR HEALS SHOOT

VANCOUVER, July 8.—Senator J. D. Taylor, of New Westminster, will donate a new Westminster Cup for competition at annual matches of the British Columbia Rifle Association, it was announced today by Major J. S. Matthews, archivist of that organization. Contests of the association, which have been held for more than half a century, will be held this year from July 12 to July 17, at Heals Rifle Range, Victoria. The first Westminster Cup was donated in 1877, and since then six trophies of the same name have been given.

SCHAAF LANDS K.O.

"Big Poison" of Pirates

By HARDIN BURNLEY

"TAKE the Waners out of the Pirate lineup and the Bucs would be a pushover," said Rogers Hornsby recently while discussing the strength of various Western clubs.

And there's much in what Hornsby says, particularly in the case of Paul Waner, who is batting at a .375 clip and appears to be slugging his way to the National League batting championship, an honor he has coveted since he topped the league in 1927, his second season in the big show.

The sudden surge of the Pirates in this year's pennant race has been due in part to Paul's hitting comeback. Last year his batting fell off to a dangerous degree. His slump was blamed by many on the belief that Paul, always a student of pitching, was trying to outguess the enemy hurlers. Paul denied this, saying that he was in there taking his cut as always, but was just in one of those slumps which all hitters experience occasionally.

Anyway, his comeback has been a boon to Manager George Gibson, who has had his troubles this year. Since the training season Gibson has been forced to do some tall experimenting and has faced various handicaps. But despite all that he and his Pirates have progressed.

Getting back to "Poison Paul," this young man has had a remarkable batting record since his major league debut with the Pirates in 1926. He came to Pittsburgh from the Pacific Coast League in a deal which also included Hal Rhyne, now playing shortstop for the Boston Red Sox. Since his first year as a regular Paul has a grand batting average to date of over .350. In 1926, he poled out 180 hits, the following year he had 237; in 1928 his total was 223; 1929 it dropped to 200; in 1930 it jumped to 217 and last year dropped to 180, his mark of 1926.

Paul won't have any cinch grabbing off the batting crown this year, despite his hitting streak. There are several others who have their eyes focused on that crown. Chick Hafey, last year's champion, is right up there, and judging by the way he is hitting 'em he will stay there. Hurst and Whitney, of the Phillies; Critz, of New York, and Collins, of St. Louis, are talling along close behind the leaders.

It's going to take a real batting champion to stay on top with these wallopers shooting for the big prize, but with "Poison Paul" hitting them again, who is to say that he won't go in to win his second batting crown?

Fight Pictures Show Who Won Championship Bout

Loud Squawks of Critics and Experts Appear Justified According to Movietone Talkies Now on Display at Empire Theatre

Jack Sharkey was awarded the world's heavyweight championship in his fight with Max Schmeling at New York, June 21, but judging from the movietone pictures of the bout, which were opened for a six-day run at the Empire Theatre yesterday, the loud voice of protest, which followed the decision of one judge and Referee Gunboat Smith in favor of the Boston Gob, was wholly justified. From the pictures it appeared as if Schmeling won from New York to Berlin, as one critic said, and few, if any, of those who saw the pictures disagreed.

MAX SCHMELING

The pictures are 100 per cent talkies, and give a clear view of the bout from close up. Only the most important rounds, 1, 2, 5, 8, 9, 10, 13, 14 and 15 are shown, but these are enough to give a comprehensive view of the much-talked-of bout and decision.

GERMAN ALWAYS FORCING

In practically every round Schmeling did the forcing, and Sharkey was backing up most of the fifteen-round route. In the late rounds the advantage, which twenty-three out of twenty-five American writers and Grantland Rice, noted American columnist and a contributor to The Colonist, gave the German, was depicted and backed up by the many critics who thought Schmeling should have retained his title.

In the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth rounds, Sharkey appeared to be groggy and glady took any opportunity to get away from the relentless attack of the Teuton. The picture clearly shows the devastating lefts which Schmeling jabbed at Sharkey's eye in the last three rounds. Sharkey's eye looked as if a freight train had struck him.

The new champion was a tired one when the final bell sounded, and after hugging Schmeling went to his corner to await the astounding verdict. When the veteran announcer, Joe Humphries, had collected the three sheets from the various officials and had raised his hands, calling for silence from the crowd, Sharkey looked like a badly-beaten man, and when the decision was announced seemed paralyzed with surprise. He was congratulated by the fresh and smiling, but thunder-struck German.

The manner in which the decision was booed was clear, and Joe Jacobs, Schmelling's manager, loud cries, of "Robbers, robbers, robbers," were clear.

Doherty's Long Hit In 8th Responsible For Team's 4-3 Win

Three-Bagger Scores Holman From First to Give Canadians Close Decision Over Tillicums—Jack Noble Goes Distance for Winners—Losers Falter After Taking Early Lead

HOW THEY STAND

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Green Mill | 7 | 3 | .700 |
| Sons of Canada | 7 | 3 | .700 |
| Elks | 4 | 6 | .400 |
| Tillicums | 2 | 8 | .200 |

Next game Monday—Elks vs. Tillicums.

Smashing a hard drive over second base to the centre-field fence, which scored Bill Holman from first in the last of the eighth with one out, Herb Doherty drove across the winning run in the Sons of Canada's 4-3 victory over the Tillicums last night, at the Royal Athletic Park in the Senior Amateur Baseball League. Victory for the Canadians put them back into a tie for first place with the Green Mill nine.

Jack Noble went the route for the Sons, and turned in his first victory of the season. He had one bad inning, the third, when the clubmen got to him for four hits and three runs. After that he settled down and pitched brilliantly to the end. Noble fanned ten and issued two walks. Jimmy Proudlove pitched for the losers and was nicked for ten hits. He struck out six and walked three.

The Sons threatened in the first frame, but a fast double play halted it. Moore took Bacon's attempted bunt and doubled Haines at first. Fleming threw out Holman at first to end the inning. In the third, the Tillicums got to Noble for three runs.

TAKE LEAD

Proudlove reached first on a single and went to second on Cann's error. McLaren doubled to right, scoring Proudlove from second. Moore smashed out a long triple between centre and right and McLaren crossed the plate. Moore raced home when Saville fumbled Taylor's grounder, Burgeron singled to right and Taylor stopped at third. M. Patrick was tossed out at first, Saville to Cann, and L. Patrick ended the rally by fanning.

Craig touched all bases for the Sons' first run in the third. It looked as if the Canadians were due for a few more tallies, but another fine double killing cut their intentions short. Taylor to Burgeron to Moore was the play that halted the Sons. Burguron tossed Hilton out at first to end the inning. In the fifth, Noble singled, stole second, reached third on a wild pitch and scored on Haines' sacrifice hit for the Sons' second run.

WINNING RUN

A single by Hilton, sacrifice bunt by Doherty, and another hit by Candy sent the former home with the tying run in the sixth. Things went along at a fast pace during the seventh and the first half of the eighth. In the last of the eighth the Sons drove in the winning run. Holman started off with a hard single through short. Hilton flied to McLaren in centre-field. Doherty caught hold of one of Proudlove's fast ones and crashed a three-bagger over second nearly to the centre-field fence, and Holman raced home from first. Doherty died on third when Wally Stipe raced a city block to take Saville's hard drive in left field.

The Tillicums failed to come through in the ninth. Proudlove fanned. Manager Harry Down went in to pinch hit for McLaren, and was thrown out at first, Noble to Doherty. Fleming grounded to Saville.

Lloyd Cann and Herb Doherty shared first base duties in place of Kim Campbell, who was unable to turn out.

Stocks Drop as Bonds Gain at New York Mart

NEW YORK, July 8.—Except for inevitable buoyancy in Reich bonds, today's security markets made a negative response to news that France and Germany had settled their reparations argument.

Stocks were mildly cheerful at the opening, by which time Lausanne dispatches had announced the settlement, but the smattering gains were quickly dissipated. Thereafter weakness was selective, but the list generally refused to manifest enthusiasm over what had happened abroad, and closing prices were irregularly lower. A few losses ranged from 2 to 6 points; in the main net changes were fractional. Sales totaled 720,288 shares.

Utilities had to take more or less selling all day. American Telephone, whose second quarter results will be forthcoming in another week or two, swerved well into the early 70's and was down 2 net. People's Gas lost 4 and Detroit Edison 6. There were fractional losses for North American and Public Service of New Jersey among others.

Industrials were sluggish but reasonably steady. United States Steel, with an unfilled tonnage statement due at noon tomorrow, was off slightly at the close; so were Allied Chemical, Du Pont, International Business Machines, International Shoe, Westinghouse, Wrigley and Borden, National Biscuit, American Can, General Electric, Standard Oil of New Jersey and American Tobacco "B" were steady. General Motors, whose June sales were well under those of May, traded quietly. In rails, Union Pacific went to a new low, off 1 1-2 net.

The bond market received the announcement of a reparations agreement by European nations with another outburst of well-sustained buying of foreign government bonds.

Domestic issues were somewhat mixed, although price changes in leading issues were unimportant. The United States Government group reflected some selling in the Treasury issues, while the Liberty bonds went higher with a single exception. Industrial and utility bonds lifted, while railroad bonds lost a fraction.

Transactions totaled $1,641,000 par amount.

German Government bonds especially benefited from the Lausanne announcement. Both the 7's and 5 1-2's sold in new high ground and closed, respectively, at 66 3-4, up 1 1-4, and 47 1-4, up 3 1-4. Gains of 2 to 3 points were registered by the Berlin City 6's, Berlin Elevated 6 1-2's and Siemens & Halske 8 1-2's. Other foreign bonds which ran up 2 or more points included government issues of Argentina, Colombia, Denmark, Greece, Haiti, Sweden and some Italian and Swedish municipals.

Turnover in the United States Government list was fairly large. A single block of $1,000,000 Treasury 3 3-8's of March, 1943, changed hands at 98 13-32, of 3-32 of a point. This issue closed at 98 12-32.

Railroad bonds lost 2 or more points.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN SLIGHTLY

Trading Light at Winnipeg—Market News Is Encouraging

WINNIPEG, July 8 (CP).—Wheat held fractional gains in the grain market here today after an almost stagnant session of local trade. There was some export business overnight, political developments were encouraging, and crop news was not quite so favorable.

All future months gained 3-8, July closing at 54 1-8, October at 57, and December at 58 1-8.

Sales of Canadian wheat abroad were better than for several days, and unexpected improvement in Liverpool cables together with the news of decreasing supplies in the Argentine, and in Australia gave the market a firm tone, lacking for several sessions.

Sales of cash wheat continued very light, with some interest being maintained in No. 3 Northern.

Pit trade in all commodities on the coarse grains market was dull, only small quantities of oats, barley and rye being purchased for export.

Bank Stocks Still Feature Trading at Eastern Exchanges

MONTREAL, July 8. — Despite encouraging news from the reparations conference at Lausanne, the advance was checked today on the Montreal Stock Exchange, which took its leadership from a heavy Wall Street market. Leading issues to score fractional declines included Canadian Pacific, Consolidated Smelters, Winnipeg Electric and Massey-Harris.

Montreal Power, International Nickel, National Breweries, B.C. Power and Shawinigan held steady to a fraction higher. Shawinigan closed unchanged at 10 3-8. Montreal Power gained 1-4 to 28 1-4.

In the banking group, Bank of Montreal touched a new high for the current movement at 190, up 5. Commerce eased a point to 138, and Royal held steady.

Bell Telephone slipped 1-2 at 77 1-2; Brazilian 1-4 at 10 1-4; Cockshutt 1-8 at 3 3-4; Smelters 1-2 at 40 1-2; Winnipeg 3-8 at 2 5-8, and Massey 1-8 at 2 7-8. Steel of Canada gained 1-2 at 13.

Bond sales showed a good demand for Canadian Government and Canadian National issues, the latter group being bought by New York. Shawinigan 8 per cent notes were up 2 points, and Canadian Pacific issues about a point higher.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, July 8. — Working against the general market trend, bank stocks forged ahead for the fourth successive session today on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Moderate weakness in New York appeared to undermine the local list, although interlisted stocks held generally firm.

Bank of Nova Scotia was an exception in the bank group's continued climb, closing 1-8 lower at 239 7-8. Dominion Bank registered the largest advance, moving up 5 at 135. Commerce and Imperial picked up 3 points apiece to 140 and 144, respectively. Royal was unchanged at 142.

On the upside Consolidated Smelters rose a point to 41. International Nickel gained 1-8 to 5 5-8, and International Petroleum advanced a similar amount to 10 1-4.

Canadian Pacific was off 3-8 to 10 3-4, while Bell Telephone was a soft spot with a two-point decline at 76. Ford of Canada, Page-Hersey, Walker's common, Tamblyn common and Shawinigan were all lower, the Tamblyn issue breaking 7 points to a new low level of 35.

B.C. Power "A" closed fractionally firmer at 19 1-4, while Building Products gained a point to 11, and Cockshutt Plow 1-8 to 3 5-8.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, July 8.—Profit taking today halted the current upswing in the gold list on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange and price action was mixed.

Trading was steady in the base metal section. Noranda recovered 5c to $14.95. International Nickel, despite rumors of new developments at the property, broke 20c to close at $5.35, after touching $5.70.

Hollinger, a firm spot all week, today continued strong with a net gain of 15c to $5.35. McIntyre recovered 10c to $17.50, and Coniaurum, on the strength of a dividend announcement, jumped 9 points to 39c. Dome was down 15c to $10.95.

Acme Gas swung into the feature position in the oil section and rose 3 points to 12 3-4c. Chemical Research broke another 17 points to close at 85c.

RACKETEERS IN GLASGOW

Merchants of Glasgow, Scotland, have made an appeal to Chief Constable P. J. Sillitoe for protection against racketeers that are said to be using Chicago methods. A secret organization of twelve men and women is determined to rid the city of the gangsters. The principal racketeering body is known as the East End gang, and shopkeepers in the Bridgeton district are the principal victims of its activities. Many of them have been terrorized into contributing to funds to pay the fines of gangsters convicted of theft or assault. Other victims include people known to differ from the gangsters on religion, politics, and football.

"MUCH CRY AND NO WOOL"

We sometimes hear the expression, "All cry and no wool," as well as the form "much cry and no wool," which is so popular in common speech to express the idea of "Much ado about nothing"—or a good deal of excitement with no results.

Samuel Butler, who lived from 1600 to 1680, gave considerable impetus to the permanence of the expression when he used it in the first part of his famous "Hudibras." On line 852 of the first canto, we find:

"Or shear swine—all cry and no wool."

For the source of the phrase, however, we must go still further back, to John Fortescue, an English judge of the fifteenth century. He was also a man of letters, and the author of the celebrated "De Laudibus Legum Angliae," a eulogy of the laws of England, which he wrote for the instruction of the young Prince Edward. It is in this work that Forescue originated the expression, "Meche crye and no wull."

LANGFORD PUPILS RENDER CONCERT

Musical Programme Enjoyed by Capacity House—Mrs. Bullen Presents Attendance Certificates

LANGFORD, July 8.—An interesting musical programme was given before a capacity house on Thursday evening in the Langford School by the school piano class and pupils of Mrs. H. Simpson.

W. T. Dixon was chairman and Miss Stella Hincks acted as guide, conducting the audience on a round the world tour by folk music.

The pupils acted as accompanists on piano and with orchestral selections for the whole programme, and songs typical of each country were sung, while other children in costume suggested characteristic customs of the country represented.

Before singing the National Anthem, Roderick Groves and Howard Smedley gave an excellently rendered duet on clarionettes.

Mrs. D. B. Bullen, chairman of the School Board, presented attendance certificates to the following pupils: Frances Wale, Mildred Peatt, Kathleen Goodall, Maurice Buckley and Howard Smedley received certificates for having finished the piano class course, and Robert Simpson, Ada Carlow, Violet Oak and Almer Olson for having finished the first period of the course.

SAHTLAM PIONEER PASSES AT DUNCAN

VIMY, July 8.—A pioneer resident of Sahtlam district, Mrs. E. Payne, passed away at the King's Daughters' Hospital, Duncan, on Friday morning. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. E. H. Peterson and Mrs. T. H. S. Horsfall; and two sons, Allan and Fred, all residing in the district. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

JUDGMENT AWARDED IN COWICHAN CASE

VANCOUVER, July 8.—By a Supreme Court judgment of Mr. Justice Murphy, A. D. Fairni, suing as trustee for bondholders, has been awarded judgment for $61,484 on assets covered by the bonds, including railway equipment at Cowichan Lake; and the defendant, Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, Ltd., trustee in bankruptcy of McDonald Murphy Lumber Company, Ltd., has been awarded judgment on a counterclaim of $50,000. The one should be credited against the other, directed His Lordship.

The $50,000 had been deposited by McDonald Murphy's predecessor in title, with North American Timber Company of Delaware, on the purchase from the latter of timber at Cowichan Lake. Plaintiff claimed that the money was forfeited under the agreement. The North American Timber Company holds the bonds, which were a charge on McDonald Murphy's logging equipment, buildings and railway.

George S. Clark was counsel for plaintiff; and W. Martin Griffin, K.C., for defendant.

DR. D. S. DIXSON BURIED AT TOFINO

TOFINO, July 8.—The funeral of Dr. D. S. Dixson, who died last week in the West Coast Hospital at Port Alberni, was held at Tofino on Sunday last. The remains, brought back from Alberni on the Princess Norah, were at once transferred to the lifeboat and taken to the local island cemetery, where the burial service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Leighton, vicar in charge of the West Coast Anglican Mission.

The funeral was largely attended by residents from all parts of the coast, and a boatload of beautiful floral offerings accompanied the casket. Chief mourners were the doctor's only daughter, Miss Winnifred Dixson, and his only son, D. S. Dixson, M.C., of Ahousat. The pallbearers were R. N. Matterson, J. H. Mitchell, M. Macleod, V. Evans, D. Grant and J. Cooper. A memorial service was conducted in St. Columba Mission Church in the evening following the funeral.

Dr. Dixson had been a resident of Tofino for the past twenty years, where he held the dual position of local health officer and physician to the Indian Department for the West Coast.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Jerry Wins Respect
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Respect of others to possess
Is one sure measure of success.
—Old Mother Nature.

Old Man Coyote blinked and blinked and felt like rubbing his eyes. He was finding it difficult to believe that his eyes were not fooling him. There on the rock in the bend below his hiding place sat Jerry Muskrat, or the living image of him, yet he was sure that Jerry had not come down the Laughing Brook from the place where he was last seen. Old Man Coyote got to his feet and walked along the bank until he reached the pool at the bend. He looked across at Jerry sitting on the rock on the other side of the pool.

"Do my eyes deceive me or is that you, Jerry Muskrat?" he asked, and grinned.

"Do my eyes deceive me, or is that you, Jerry Muskrat?" he asked and grinned

Jerry grinned back. "I guess there is nothing the matter with your eyes," said he.

"Do you mind telling me how you managed to get down through that swift water back there, or did you come along the bank?" inquired Old Man Coyote.

Jerry's eyes twinkled. "Do you mind telling me why you think I was up the Laughing Brook? You know I might be on my way up now instead of down," retorted Jerry.

Again Old Man Coyote grinned. "I don't mind telling you that I saw you back there a little way with Buster Bear wasting his time trying to get you by pulling over a pile of rocks and stones," said he. "You know, I'm not much of a swimmer myself, so I have been wondering if so good a swimmer as you would dare come down there."

"I might, but I didn't do it this time," replied Jerry.

"But you didn't come down along the bank," said Old Man Coyote.

"How do you know I didn't?" retorted Jerry quickly.

This time Old Man Coyote chuckled right out. "Because I was watching one bank while Buster Bear watched the other," said he. "I made a mistake."

"What mistake was that?" inquired Jerry.

"Not thinking you as smart as you really are," replied Old Man Coyote. "But you haven't told me yet how you got here."

It was Jerry's turn to grin. "On my four feet," said he.

Old Man Coyote chuckled good naturedly. "Did you really? That tells me something and tells me nothing. I was sure you didn't fly," said he.

"Perhaps you took a nap," suggested Jerry.

"No," declared Old Man Coyote. "No, I didn't take a nap. Perhaps I was asleep, but not in that way."

"Yet I am here," grinned Jerry.

"You are there," replied Old Man Coyote, "and you didn't get past me. I am afraid my friend Buster Bear must have done the napping."

"I didn't see him," said Jerry.

"And it is evident that he didn't see you," replied Old Man Coyote. "Jerry, you are a great disappointment to me."

"How so?" asked Jerry innocently.

"By leaving me still hungry when I thought I was sure of a good meal and by being smarter than I thought you were," replied Old Man Coyote, and when he grinned this time he showed all his teeth. "I have learned something," he added. "I have learned to have more respect for you than ever I had before."

"But," chuckled Jerry, "you haven't yet learned how I got here."

"I will," promised Old Man Coyote.
